

Field Studies in Physical Geography:

Aug 26 – Sept 1, 2024

University of Victoria Department of Geography

General Information

The 2024 Geography 477 field camp is being held in the Lillooet Icefield area, British Columbia Coast Mountains, from Monday, August 26 to Sunday, September 1, 2024. This is a remote backcountry site and participants should anticipate variable weather conditions and long days exploring challenging terrain over the duration of the field camp. Access is by helicopter and boat charter from Campbell River. Participants require personal tents for accommodation (packing list will be provided).

If you have any further questions after reading the information in this package, please email gkrezoski@uvic.ca.

Eligibility

We expect many more applicants than the 12 positions available. Accordingly, we list the following eligibility information:

- Preference will be given to students in their final year of study
- Preference may be given to students who have completed more than one of the pre-requisites
- Preference may be given to students who identify this is a required course in their program
- This field school is physically demanding. Applicants must mention if they have accessibility needs that may affect their ability to participate.

Application Requirements

Please see the Application Form for all application instructions and requirements.

Courses

This field school is comprised of one course worth 1.5 credits. Successful applicants will be registered in this course through special registration by the Department of Geography (students will not register themselves).

COURSE OVERVIEW:

Geography 477 – Field Studies in Physical Geography

Instructor: Gillian Krezoski

Aug 26-Sept 1 in person – remainder of work will be completed over the fall term with final deliverables due before the exam period.

Overview: The nature of scientific research in physical geography is examined through field and laboratory techniques. Includes a week-long field camp where basic approaches, methodologies and techniques are used to prepare a series of reports based on field data and collected samples.

Tentative Itinerary

This itinerary should be taken as tentative and is subject to change:

You will need to be ready to depart from Campbell River to the field camp by 8:00 am. Assuming no delays in weather or traffic we should arrive and have field camp set up by dinner time. We will spend the next 6 days exploring the area and collecting data for fall term project work. We will depart our Glacier field camp September 1st and arrive back in Campbell River. More camp and travel details will be sent out when you have been accepted into the course.
