POLITICAL SCIENCE ANNOUNCEMENTS

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR IN INDIGENOUS POLITICS (TENURE-TRACK)

Application deadline: Friday, October 2

Job Summary

The Department of Political Science at the University of Victoria invites applications for a tenure-track position in Indigenous Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor. In addition to maintaining an active research program in Indigenous Politics, the candidate will be expected to teach at the undergraduate and graduate levels and be prepared to build and expand the department’s offerings. This includes teaching and supervision in the Indigenous Nationhood graduate certificate, which serves to train students in the field of Indigenous politics, law and governance.

Applicants should have completed a PhD in Political Science or a related field, with preference given to UVic PhD graduates. Applicants should have an established publication record which indicates promise of research excellence appropriate to their stage of career, and a well-developed research program in Indigenous Politics. In accordance with the University’s Equity Plan and pursuant to section 42 of the BC Human Rights Code, the selection will be limited to Indigenous peoples. Candidates from this group must self-identify. More information at: https://bit.ly/2XNXXE8

CONGRATS TO DIDIER!
