What is this course about?
This course will focus on behavioural pharmacology as it applies to humans. Topics will include how chemicals affect the nervous system, human cognition, perception, affect and behavior. Class will meet every weekday, and will include lectures and discussions (please note: this course does not include a “hands on” lab portion).

Lectures will be used to emphasize and clarify topics in the text, as well as provide additional information not covered in the textbook.

This course will also have an on-line component on CourseSpaces. You will need your netlink ID and password to log-in. Lecture slides will be posted the morning of the class, and forum topics and response posts (see below) will be done on-line.

Before you take this course, make sure you have completed the following:

- Psyc 251

Students who have not completed these prerequisites but chose to remain in the course do so at their own risk. Completion of this course does NOT exempt students from completing the prerequisites required for the degree program!

Please note that the course drop deadline is May 29th! It is the student’s responsibility to check their registration status by the drop deadline to ensure they are registered only in courses they have been attending!

Midterms

Midterms will consist of a mixture of multiple choice, true/false and fill in the blank questions. Content will be derived from both the textbook and lecture materials. Midterms will be worth 87% of your grade.

Midterm Policies

1. The Iris Special: In order to alleviate some test anxiety, the weight of your best midterm will be increased by 5% (i.e. from 29% to 34%) while the weight of your worst midterm will be decreased by 5% (i.e. from 29% to 24%).

2. Midterm Absences: You are responsible for attending exams as scheduled. If you miss an exam due to illness/accident or a death in the family, you must supply:
   - documentation for your absence (e.g. doctor's note, obituary, etc.) within 3 days of missing the exam.
   - Documentation must be dated the day of the midterm! No documentation dated retroactively will be accepted!
   - Medical documentation must be provided by an M.D., not a practitioner (i.e. physiotherapists, chiropractors, midwives, etc.)

   If documentation is approved, then a make-up examination will be scheduled for the Friday following the missed midterm. Please note that make-up exams will not necessarily include the same content as the midterm.

   If documentation is not accepted, you will receive a “0” for the midterm. Students who do not provide any documentation will receive an “N” in this course.

Forum Posts (12%)

You will be required to complete research summaries on miscellaneous topics pertaining to drugs and behaviour. For “how-to” instructions, please see Coursespaces.

- You are required to submit 3 forums out of a total of four forums; which 3 are up to you.
- All submissions must be typed into Coursespaces, or submitted as .docx OR .pdf; submissions in any other format will not be accepted and given “0”.
Bonus (3%)
3 SONA credits, OR Art Project due last June 6th, 4:30 pm. (see Coursespaces for instructions).

What Else Can You Do to Do Well in This Course?

Check the study tips. In line with tried-and-true methods of learning theory, there are several study methods you can engage in to optimize your learning. These tips are posted on Coursespaces for your convenience.

Attend class regularly. Attending class regularly will increase your exposure and your understanding of human perception by engaging with, and discussing material. Whereas attendance will not be taken, it is the student’s responsibility to attend lectures to fully benefit from in-class participation; absences will not be acceptable excuses for missing content or instructions.

Attend office hours. If you’re having a hard time understanding something please don’t struggle on your own – we’re here to help! If you can’t make office hours, you can always e-mail us to set up alternative times to meet.

Prerequisites

Students who remain in courses for which they do not have the prerequisites do so at their own risk. Students who complete courses without prerequisites ARE NOT exempt from having to complete the prerequisite course(s) if such courses are required for the degree program.

Program Requirements

For more information see pages 310-313 of the UVic Calendar May 2018.

Registration Status

Students are responsible for verifying their registration status. Registration status may be verified using My Page, View Schedule. Course adds and drops will not be processed after the deadlines set out in the current UVic Calendar.

Commitment to Inclusivity and Diversity

The University of Victoria is committed to promoting, providing and protecting a positive and supportive and safe learning and working environment for all its members.

In the Event of Illness, Accident or Family Affliction (See UVic Calendar, May 2018, p. 50)

• What to do if you miss an exam other than one scheduled for the last day of classes
Do not apply at Records Services for a “Request for Academic Concession”. Instead submit documentation of the illness, accident or family affliction directly to your course instructor (or designated teaching assistant).

• What to do if you miss the final scheduled on the last day of classes
Apply at Records Services for a “Request for Academic Concession”, normally within 10 working days of the date of the exam. Records Services will forward the form to the instructor. If the concession is granted, the instructor will determine how to deal with the situation (for example, a deferred exam). Where a concession is not applied for or where such application is denied, an N grade will be entered on the student’s academic record.

OR, you can download the Request for Academic Concession form here:
http://www.uvic.ca/registrar/assets/docs/record-forms/rac.pdf

• What to do if you require additional time to complete course requirements
Apply at Records Services for a “Request for Academic Concession”, normally within 10 working days of the end of the formal examination period. Records Services will forward the form to the instructor. If the concession is granted the instructor will determine how to deal with the situation. Where a concession is not applied for or where such application is denied, an N grade will be entered on the student’s academic record.

Policy on Academic Integrity including Plagiarism and Cheating

The Department of Psychology fully endorses and intends to enforce rigorously the Senate Policy on Academic integrity (http://web.uvic.ca/calendar2016-09/undergrad/info/regulations/academic-integrity.html, p. 45-47, UVic Calendar May 2018). It is of utmost importance that students who do their work honestly be protected from those who do not. Because this policy is in place to ensure that students carry out and benefit from the learning activities assigned in each course, it is expected that students will cooperate in its implementation.

The offences defined by the policy can be summarized briefly as follows:

1. Plagiarism. You must make sure that the work you submit is your work and not someone else’s. There are proper procedures for citing the works of others. The student is responsible for being aware of and using these procedures.

2. Multiple Submission. Only under exceptional circumstances may a work submitted to fulfill an academic requirement be used to satisfy another similar requirement. The student is responsible for clarifying this with the instructor(s) involved.

3. Falsifying Materials Subject to Academic Evaluation. This includes falsification of data, use of commercially prepared essays, using information from the Internet without proper citation, citing sources from which material is not actually obtained, etc.

4. Cheating on Assignments, Tests, and Examinations. You may not copy the work of others in or out of class; you may not give your work to others for the purpose of copying; you may not use unauthorized material or equipment during examinations or tests; and you may not impersonate or allow yourself to be impersonated by another at an examination. The Department of Psychology has a policy of not making old examinations available for study purposes. Therefore, use of old exams without the express written permission of the instructor constitutes cheating by the user, and abetting of cheating by the person who provided the exam.

5. Being an Accessory to Offences. This means that helping another student to cheat (for instance, by showing or communicating to them answers to an assignment, or by allowing them to view answers on an exam) is an academic offence.

Instructors are expected to make every effort to prevent cheating and plagiarism. This may include the assignment of seating for examinations, asking students to move during examinations, requests to see student identification cards, and other measures as appropriate. Instructors also have available to them a variety of tools and procedures to check for Internet and electronic media-based cheating. In instances of suspected or actual plagiarism or cheating, instructors, following prescribed procedures, are authorized to take steps consistent with the degree of the offence. These measures will range from a zero on the test or assignment or a failing grade for the course, probation within a program to temporary or even permanent suspension from the University.

Rights of Appeal are described in the Policy on Academic Integrity in the University calendar (on p. 45-47 in May 2018).
