This is a TENTATIVE Outline—the most current version of this document will be on BrightSpace

Course Description: Surveys foundational concepts of lifespan development psychology, such as sensitive periods, developmental stages and transitions, and trajectories of change across the lifespan.

Required Text:

Santrock, J., Mondlach, C., & MacKenzie-Thompson, A. (2020). Essentials of Life-Span Development (First Canadian Edition), McGraw-Hill Ryerson Limited.

Note: The textbook sold through the UVic Bookstore comes with “Connect” an online learning aid provided by the textbook publisher. “Connect” is not required for this course. That is, there will be no content that is only available through Connect that will be part of any exam. But it is a tool that I believe will be of value to students. Further information on this will be announced in class and posted on the course website.

Course website: <https://bright.uvic.ca/d2l/home/155988>

Lecture notes will be available on the course website (Brightspace) along with the course outline, reading and lecture schedule, exam information, grades, and general course news.

Prerequisites: The pre-requisites for this course are PSYC 100A and 100B. Students who remain in courses for which they do not have the prerequisites do so at their own risk. Those who complete courses without prerequisites are not exempt from having to complete the prerequisite course(s) at some later date if such courses are required for the degree program.

Evaluation & Grading Policy: Students will be graded based on their performance on three exams as well as marks awarded for online participation.

Evaluation	Date	Percentage of Grade
Exam 1	February 10— online, details TBA	30%
Exam 2	March 17— online, details TBA	30%
Exam 3	Final exam period— online details TBA	30%
Participation	Varies (see Participation)— online, details TBA	10%

Exams: Midterm exams will include multiple choice questions presented in an online format. Exams will be held during regular class times. Once you begin an exam, you will have 80 minutes to complete the exam (CAL students will be given their individually allotted completion time). The final exam will be held during the final exam period (Apr 11–29). The final exam will be online and will be scheduled by the university—I will announce the date and time in class and on the website. More information on the exams will be provided through the course web site. Exams are NOT cumulative. See the website for the file “About PSYC 243 Exams”

You are responsible for taking examinations as scheduled. If you miss an exam for a valid reason, contact the instructor or TA as soon as possible. Do not suffer in silence.

Unexcused missed examinations will be assigned a score of zero. Note that jobs, weddings, and other exams will not be considered valid reasons for missing an exam. Because of the size of this class, there will be no deferred or make up exams. If you miss the final exam, you must apply to the Office of the Registrar to request a deferral (see the UVic Calendar for guidelines).

Your final letter grade in the course will be determined by your total percent score according to the standard UVic grading scale (see the UVic Calendar for details). Final grades ending with a decimal point of 0.5 or above will be rounded to the next higher whole number, and grades ending with a decimal point below 0.5 will be rounded to the next lower whole number. The minimum percentage necessary for each grade is as follows:

A+=90–100, A=85–89, A–=80–84, B+=77–79, B=73–76, B–=70–72, C+=65–69, C=60–64, D=50–59, F=0–49

Participation: To encourage engagement with the course materials and with other class members, we will be creating different ways to evaluate ‘student participation.’ These measures are still under development, but they will be quick & simple things like completing online polls, or answering simple questions about materials presented as part of the lectures. There will be 4–5 activities spread out during the term. They will be time limited—that is, you can’t wait until the end of the course to complete all the polls, post things etc. If you fail to complete an activity in the allotted time (typically 1 week), you won’t get credit for that activity. The participation activities will usually be open for at least a week, so please don’t ask me for an extension if you miss one. Information about each activity (including due dates) will be announced in class and posted on the website.

Students are expected to familiarize themselves with the UVic Policy on Academic Integrity.

Office Hours: For reasons I’ll explain in class, I no longer hold regular in-person office hours. If you would like to meet with me or your TA in person or in some virtual way, we can set that up. We try to respond to email in a timely fashion, but there are 250 students in this class... so please be patient. It would be most helpful if the “Subject:” line of your email begins with “PSYC 243.”

Lecture Topics & Reading List

(TENTATIVE: Changes to this schedule will be announced in class and on the website)

The term is 12 weeks (not counting our Reading Break). There will be 22 lectures.

We can’t possibly cover everything in the textbook in 12 weeks, so here are the topics and textbook readings we will try to cover. The course will be divided into three parts:

Notes from your instructor and teaching assistant

Respect for Diversity: It is our intent that students from all diverse backgrounds and perspectives are well-served by this course, that students' learning needs be addressed both in and out of class, and that the diversity that students bring to this class be viewed as a resource, strength, and benefit. It is our intent to present materials and activities that are respectful of gender, sexuality, disability, age, socio-economic status, ethnicity, race, and cultural diversities. Your suggestions are encouraged and appreciated. Please let us know ways to improve the effectiveness of the course for you personally or for other students or student groups.

Be Well: Take care of yourself. Do your best to maintain a healthy lifestyle this semester by eating well, exercising, getting enough sleep, and taking some time to relax. This will help you achieve your goals and cope with stress. All of us benefit from support during times of struggle. You are not alone. The sooner you let us know your needs, the quicker we can assist you in achieving your learning goals in this course.

Here are a few resources available to you:

Counselling Services: Counselling Services can help you make the most of your university experience. They offer free professional, confidential, inclusive support to currently registered UVic students.

Important Course Policy Information
Spring 2022

Prerequisites

Students who remain in courses for which they do not have the prerequisites do so at their own risk. Students who complete courses without prerequisites ARE NOT exempt from having to complete the prerequisite course(s) if such courses are required for the degree program.

Program Requirements

For more information see the UVic Calendar, September 2021.

Registration Status

Students are responsible for verifying their registration status. Registration status may be verified using My Page, View Schedule. Course adds and drops will not be processed after the deadlines set out in the current UVic Calendar.

In the Event of Illness, Accident or Family Affliction

- What to do if you miss the final exam scheduled during the formal exam period

Apply at Records Services for a "Request for Academic Concession", normally within 10 working days of the date of the exam. Records Services will forward the form to the instructor. If the concession is granted, the instructor will determine how to deal with the situation (for example, a deferred exam). Where a concession is not applied for or where such application is denied, an N grade will be entered on the student's academic record.

You can download the Request for Academic Concession form here:

<http://www.uvic.ca/registrar/assets/docs/record-forms/rac.pdf>

- What to do if you miss an exam other than one scheduled during the formal exam period

Do not apply at Records Services for a "Request for Academic Concession". Instead submit documentation of the illness, accident or family affliction directly to your course instructor (or designated teaching assistant).

- What to do if you require additional time to complete course requirements

Apply at Records Services for a "Request for Academic Concession", normally within 10 working days of the end of the course. Records Services will forward the form to the instructor. If the concession is granted, the instructor will determine how to deal with the situation (for example, a deferred exam). Where a concession is not applied for or where such application is denied, an N grade will be entered on the student's academic record.

Policy on Academic Integrity including Plagiarism and Cheating

The Department of Psychology fully endorses and intends to enforce rigorously the Senate Policy on Academic integrity (UVic Calendar). It is of utmost importance that students who do their work honestly be protected from those who do not. Because this policy is in place to ensure that students carry out and benefit from the learning activities assigned in each course, it is expected that students will cooperate in its implementation.

The offences defined by the policy can be summarized briefly as follows:

1. Plagiarism. You must make sure that the work you submit is your work and not someone else's. There are proper procedures for citing the works of others. The student is responsible for being aware of and using these procedures.
2. Unauthorized Use of an Editor. The use of an editor is prohibited unless the instructor grants explicit written authorization.
3. Multiple Submission. Only under exceptional circumstances may a work submitted to fulfill an academic requirement be used to satisfy another similar requirement. The student is responsible for clarifying this with the instructor(s) involved.
4. Falsifying Materials Subject to Academic Evaluation. This includes falsification of data, use of commercially prepared essays, using information from the Internet without proper citation, citing sources from which material is not actually obtained, etc.
5. Cheating on Assignments, Tests, and Examinations. You may not copy the work of others in or out of class; you may not give your work to others for the purpose of copying; you may not use unauthorized material or equipment during examinations or tests; and you may not impersonate or allow yourself to be impersonated by another at an examination. The Department of Psychology has a policy of not making old examinations available for study purposes. Therefore, use of old exams without the express written permission of the instructor constitutes cheating by the user, and abetting of cheating by the person who provided the exam.
6. Aiding Others to Cheat. It is a violation to help others or attempt to help others to engage in any of the conduct described above.

Instructors are expected to make every effort to prevent cheating and plagiarism. This may include the assignment of seating for examinations, asking students to move during examinations, requests to see student identification cards, and other measures as appropriate. Instructors also have available to them a variety of tools and procedures to check for Internet and electronic media-based cheating. In instances of suspected or actual plagiarism or cheating, instructors, following prescribed procedures, are authorized to take steps consistent with the degree of the offence. These measures will range from a zero on the test or assignment or a failing grade for the course, probation within a program to temporary or even permanent suspension from the University.

Rights of Appeal are described in the Policy on Academic Integrity in the University Calendar January 2021.

The definitive source for information on Academic Integrity is the University Calendar.
