Prerequisites

Prerequisites for PSYC 300A:

1. PSYC 201 Research Methods in Psychology
2. PSYC 231 Introduction to Social Psychology

Course Description

This course examines social psychological theories and research in the study of stereotyping, prejudice, and discrimination. We will learn about theoretical frameworks and methods for researching intergroup relations, how prejudice and discrimination impact members of targeted groups, and how we can reduce stereotyping, prejudice, and discrimination and improving intergroup relations. We will learn about various social groups, i.e., racism, sexism, etc. We will consider the perceivers' and targets' perspectives and apply course concepts to the real world.

Class structure: Each week will include 2 lectures where we will focus on course content. Class discussions and interactive engagement will be an important component during class time. Please note that students are expected to attend lectures and that lecture slides are not an adequate substitute for attending lectures.

Learning Goals

By the end of the course, students should be able to...
 Understand	Explain the various theoretical approaches covered in the course to the study of stereotyping, prejudice, and discrimination. Describe and interpret the research methods and results used in relevant articles.
 Apply	Apply course material to real-world experiences and events.
 Analyze	Examine, compare, and contrast different types of theoretical and methodological approaches.
 Evaluate	Evaluate the quality of research methods used in the study of stereotyping, prejudice, and discrimination, and suggest improvements for research in this area. Identify common cultural biases and ideologies that inform the existing research.
 Communicate	Engage in constructive discussions with the class on sensitive topics. Communicate your ideas in oral, written, visual, and other creative ways to various audiences. Actively listen to and consider others' perspectives.

Course Resources and Required Materials

There is no textbook required for this course. Empirical research will be used instead. Assigned readings are listed on page 9 of this syllabus. You can access the necessary readings either via the UVic library or via the URL link provided. The assigned readings should be completed prior to attending lecture and will help you become comfortable with reading, understanding, and interpreting peer-reviewed research articles.

The course website is Brightspace and can be found at <https://bright.uvic.ca> where all course-related information will be posted. You will need to complete the Course Orientation, Syllabus, and Other Resources Module prior to beginning the course to familiarize yourselves with the course. In general, the easiest way to find your way around the course's Brightspace page is to go to Course Home at the top left of the screen. On this page, you will find modules for all course components. By visiting the site using this method, this will ensure that you will find all relevant materials for each part of the course. Other methods of using the site may lead to missed materials.

You will also have the option of using other free sites such as <https://piktochart.com/> or <https://canva.com>.

You will need to check your University of Victoria email account daily for relevant updates. These can be personal emails or class-wide announcements.

What to Bring to Class to be Prepared

Lecture slides will generally be posted on Brightspace before classes, and it is highly recommended to bring them to class.

Notebook/paper and writing implements, even if you bring a laptop as well. We will occasionally take time for you to work on a problem in class so we can take it up after.

Laptop, tablet, or smart phone to access course readings or other relevant links are recommended but not required.

Behavioural Expectations

The University of Victoria is committed to promoting, providing, and protecting a positive, supportive, and safe learning and working environment for all its members and so am I. If you have any concerns regarding activities that are intrinsic to PSYC 387, please see me in the first week of the term.

Respect for Diversity: It is my intention that students from all diverse backgrounds and perspectives be well-served by this course, that students' learning needs be addressed both in and out of class, and that the diversity that students bring to this class be viewed as a resource, strength, and benefit. It is my intention to present materials and activities that are respectful of diversity: gender, sexuality, disability, age, socioeconomic status, ethnicity, race, and culture. Your suggestions are encouraged and appreciated. Please let me know ways to improve the effectiveness of the course for you personally or for other students or student groups. In addition, if any of our course deadlines conflict with your religious events, please let me know so that we can make arrangements for you.

Course Communication and Support

As a first step, you should always check the syllabus and the course website to find the answer to your questions. If you do have a question, there are several ways you can get help. Given that oftentimes multiple people have the same question, the professor will send out announcements to the class with answers to common questions. Below are different ways that you can find information and get support in this course:

1. Check Brightspace (i.e., syllabus, course announcements, lectures, etc.)
2. Students are welcome to ask questions during lectures by raising their hand.
3. Students may speak to the professor during class time (i.e., before class and after class if times allows).
4. Students are welcome to attend the professor's office hours for one-on-one meetings.
5. Students can email the TA or the professor to set up a one-on-one meeting by appointment.
6. Students are encouraged to study with fellow classmates and/or ask them questions.
7. For questions of a personal nature (e.g., extensions, concerns, accessibility, illness, etc.), students should email the professor and can set up a one-on-one meeting if needed.

Emails: When communicating via email please adhere to the following protocols:

- Students can expect an email response within 48 hours not including weekends (do not email the night before an assignment is due with a question about the assignment, we might not see your email in time to send a helpful reply). If we have not answered your email in two business days, feel free to send a follow-up email.
- Please consult the course outline, other handouts, and the course website BEFORE submitting inquiries by email.
- If you want to set an appointment for a virtual meeting, include a variety of dates and times that would work for you, and allow a few days for us to get back to you. Please do not email the night before and expect us to be available the next day.
- In the subject line indicate the course code, section number, and the topic of your email (e.g., PSYC387 Topic 2 Question).
- Emails should come from your UVic email account to communicate with the professor and the TA.
- All communications (verbal, email) should be respectful in language and tone and constructive in nature. This includes communications with the professor, the TA, and your fellow students.

The big picture: Ultimately, you are not alone in this course and the teaching team is here to support you! All you need to do is take advantage of the many resources available! We look forward to interacting with you all!

Course Assessments

Assessment	Due Date	Grader	Weight
Lecture Participation	Throughout the semester in class	Prof	9% (15 x 0.6%)
Reflection Assignments	Throughout the semester at 11:59pm	TA	36% (4 x 9%)
Quizzes	Throughout the semester at 11:59pm	Brightspace	24% (6 x 4%)
Current Times Discussion Board	Open from January 8 th to February 16 th at 11:59pm	Prof	10%
Real-World Response	Due at the Interventions Fair + on Brightspace on the same date	Prof & TA	20%
Self-Reflection Surveys	Start of Term: January 26 th at 11:59pm End of Term: 5 days after Interventions Fair	Prof	1% (2 x 0.5%)

Lecture Participation: 9% of final grade

Students will be placed into groups on the first day of class. Throughout the semester, students will work with their groups on various in-class activities. These activities are a great way to review course concepts, discuss concepts from various lenses to consider different perspectives, and apply course material to real-world experiences. When used effectively, class activities can increase your ongoing engagement and involvement, promote a safe environment to communicate your answers, and create lively discussions in class. In addition, attending the guest lecture in person will count as one of the lecture participation days regardless of whether you actively participate that day or not (there will be a sign in sheet if no activity is available during that lecture). If you have concerns about your group, speak to Dr. Iankilevitch as it is possible to change groups or to combine groups together as needed.

We will employ many of the principles of talking circles in these groups: when one person shares, the rest are listening; students respect each others' time; everyone in the group has an opportunity to speak; group members are extremely respectful of each other as individuals and what they share. When done successfully, talking circles encourage respect among people, collaborative learning, productive discussions, and a sense of community. For more information on talking circles, visit: <http://firstnationspedagogy.ca/circletalks.html>.

To earn full marks for participation, students need to participate in 15/19 days (i.e., approximately 79% of days) that have a lecture participation activity (including the guest lecture). Therefore, each participation day is worth 0.6% of the final grade. All class days will include an activity. Given that the level of participation required to receive maximum points is set at 15/19 of classes that have activities to allow you to occasionally miss a class, there are no opportunities to make up lecture participation.

Reflection assignments: 36% of final grade

There will be reflection assignments due at 11:59pm throughout the semester. The reflection assignments will be based on information learned in class and in relevant readings. The reflection assignments will vary in terms of their size and scope, therefore, some reflection assignments will be shorter and some will take more time. The reflection assignments should take about 2-5 hours each, however this is just an estimate and some reflection assignments may take more or less time. There will be a total of 4 writing-based reflection assignments and 3 creative works available, however you will only need to complete 3 writing-based assignments and 1 creative work. [continued on next page]

Below are the options you have for completing the reflection assignments:

WRITING-BASED	CREATIVE WORKS
Complete three from the list below	Complete one from the list below
Topic 2: due January 26	Topic 6: due February 26
Topic 3: due February 2	Topic 7: due March 4
Topics 4 & 5: due February 9	Topic 8: due March 8
Topic 9: due March 15

Each reflection assignment is worth 9% of the final grade. The top 3 writing-based reflection assignments (9% x 3) and the top 1 creative works reflection assignment (9% x 1) will count towards your final grade. For the creative work, you have the option of creating an infographic, a comic, or a TikTok video/Instagram reel. Your work must be original and cannot be a copy of something that already exists. Your work also cannot be generated by another person and cannot be generated by any sort of technology (such as AI). There will also be limits to the length of each reflection assignment. We will only assess what is within the limits indicated (e.g., word limit, page length, video length). Late reflection assignments will not be accepted and will earn an automatic 0 unless a late ticket is used or an extension is agreed upon prior to the deadline.

Quizzes: 24% of final grade

The goal of quizzes is to encourage students to review course concepts and to gauge students' understanding of course concepts. Quizzes must be completed individually (i.e., students cannot work collaboratively on quizzes) and are closed book (i.e., students should not be looking at their notes during quizzes and therefore should study prior to taking attempting a quiz).

There will be 7 quizzes over the term. Given that answer keys are published soon after each quiz is due, there is no possibility for extensions or make-ups. That being said, students may have an off day sometimes or can't complete a quiz occasionally. Therefore, the lowest score will be dropped and only the 6 best scores will count towards your grade. Therefore, each quiz is worth 4% of the final grade. In addition, if you do not complete at least 3 different quizzes, you will earn an "N" in this course.

Each quiz will include 10 questions and will be 10 minutes long. Students can attempt each quiz up to two times while it is open and the final grade for any quiz will be the mean of the attempts. Therefore, if you are happy with the score you earned on your first try, you can stop there. If you want to try to earn a higher score after your first attempt, you have a second opportunity to do so and the average of your two attempts will be your final score for that quiz. Note that all quizzes that have been started will be submitted and will count as attempts.

Quiz Due Dates
Quiz 1 on Topic 1 & 2 due January 29	Quiz 5 on Topic 7 due March 5
Quiz 2 on Topic 3 due February 5	Quiz 6 on Topic 8 & 9 due March 19
Quiz 3 on Topic 4 & 5 due February 12	Quiz 7 on Topic 10 due March 26
Quiz 4 on Topic 6 due February 27

Current Times Discussion Board: 10% of final grade

Intergroup relations are constantly evolving and this is certainly the case now. You may have noticed that some groups are coming together during this time while other groups are becoming more divided. These types of changes are interesting to think about in terms of how they may impact intergroup relations in the short-term and in the long-term. The goal of the Current Times discussion board is for us to contemplate these changes throughout our course. This discussion board can also be helpful in selecting a relevant real-world incident for the final assignment, that is, for the Real-World Response. Full instructions on creating posts and replies can be found in the Current Times discussion board.

The minimum requirement for the discussion board is to post a minimum of one original post and one reply between January 8th and February 16th. If you complete this minimum requirement and do it relatively well, you may earn up to a maximum grade of 70%. To be considered for a higher grade, you need greater engagement with the discussion board by creating more posts and/or replies throughout the semester. The goal is to create an ongoing discussion, therefore, you are encouraged to create multiple posts on different dates. This means that multiple original posts or multiple replies made on the same day will not be considered as consistent engagement throughout the semester and will not yield a higher grade. There is no limit to the number of posts you can create in the discussion board throughout the time period specified. Late posts in the discussion board will not be accepted (unless a late ticket is used or an extension is agreed upon prior to the deadline) given that the goal is for students to be continuously engaged. Keep in mind that the guidelines and deadline outlined here are a bare minimum.

Real-World Response: 20% of final grade

Despite progress in equality over the past few decades, there are continuing incidences of conflict between social groups that involve stereotyping, prejudice, and discrimination. For your real-world response, you will apply theories and research to understanding a real-life event/phenomenon and to creating a real-world response for the event/phenomenon that is intended for a non-academic audience. You can complete this assignment either individually or with a partner. Detailed instructions for the real-world response will be posted on Brightspace, however, below is an important overview of this final assignment.

To begin, you will select one incident/series of incidents & provide a news article that discusses these events. You will then consider relevant theories to explain this phenomenon. This will involve using theories learned in class and conducting your own research (minimum 5 credible sources not including studies learned in class that need to be from 2019-present). Finally, you will prepare a “real-world response” for a specific, non-expert audience that might benefit from your analysis. This could take the form of a website, online petition, brochure, blog, and so on. Your work must be original and cannot be a copy of something that already exists. Accessible language and at least one visual aid is expected. You will present your real-world response at the Interventions Fair which will be held on four different days during regular lecture hours. Note that the Interventions Fair will be held in HSD A270 You will only attend one of the Interventions Fair days. On the day that you attend, you will present your real-world response as well as attend others’ presentations at the Fair. Details for the Interventions Fair will be posted on Brightspace.

An original real-world response is required for the successful completion of this course. If you do not complete the Real-World Response final assignment, you will earn an “N” in this course.

Self-Reflection Surveys: 1% of final grade

There will be one survey at the start of term and one survey at the end of term that is meant to give you space to reflect on your personal development. This is both an activity in self reflection as well as provides Dr. Lankilevitch with specific feedback about your journey in the course. You will earn 0.5% for each survey you complete. You will complete the survey using SurveyMonkey. The link to each survey will be available on Brightspace.

The Start of Term Self-Reflection Survey will be due on Friday, January 26th at 11:59pm. The End of Term Self-Reflection Survey will be due 5 days after you attend/present at the Interventions Fair. Late submissions will not be accepted.

Late Tickets

Every now and then there may be something that prevents students from submitting work by the deadline. Therefore, for this course, every student has two late tickets of 24 hours each that they can use towards the Reflection Assignments or the Current Times Discussion Board. You can use one late ticket on two different deadlines or two late tickets (i.e., a total of 48 hours) on one deadline. To use a late ticket, you will indicate which deadline you are extending and by how much (24 hours or 48 hours) on Survey Monkey. You must complete the Survey Monkey upon submitting your work. You do not need to ask me (Dr. Iankilevitch) or the TA if you can use your two late tickets. Therefore, please do not email me or the TA when using a late ticket – we will check your responses on Survey Monkey.

In-Course Extension Requests

If you miss a deadline due to unforeseen circumstances, such as illness or accident, and the extension needed is beyond what is already covered by the late tickets above, you must fill out an In-Course Extension Form and send it to Dr. Iankilevitch within 3 days (i.e., 72 hours) of the due date. Travel plans and personal inconveniences (e.g., family visits, work schedule conflicts, multiple assignments due at the same time, etc.) are not considered acceptable reasons for an extension and will not be accommodated.

The link to the form is: https://www.uvic.ca/students/academics/academic-concessions-accommodations/request-for-academic-concession/forms/uvic\_undergraduate\_request\_for\_in-course\_extension.pdf.

Course Completion Requirements

Students who have completed the following elements will be considered to have completed the course:

- Complete at least three different Quizzes
- Complete the Real-World Response

Failure to complete one or more of these elements will result in a grade of “N” regardless of the cumulative percentage of all other elements in the course. N is a failing grade and factors into GPA as a value of 0. In accordance with the University’s policy on academic concessions, “A student who completes all course requirements is not eligible for an academic concession”. Consequently, students can only request deferrals for the completion of required course components and not for non-essential course components.

Course Feedback

You may submit feedback anonymously about the course at any time throughout the semester by completing a brief feedback form, which can be found on the Feedback about the Course link in the “Course Orientation, Syllabus, and Other Resources” module on Brightspace. You may submit feedback as many times as you would like to throughout the course. This is a way to keep in touch with the professor and share with her either:

- Difficulties that may arise with the comprehension of the subject matter;
- Insights on the various topics and critical reflections;
- Positive experiences that you are having in the course and that you would like to see continue;
- Any other feedback that is relevant, constructive, respectful, and would serve to improve the content or the delivery of the lectures and make them a better learning experience.

Informative feedback is the cornerstone of a positive learning environment. As such, the professor will make sure to read all feedback submitted by students weekly. However, it may be impossible to reply to and incorporate all of the feedback received. The professor will follow up on the more impactful or important pieces of feedback by anonymously sharing them with the entire class at the start of the following lecture. This will be a way to address recurring concerns or to come back on the previous week’s content. Your comments are important and appreciated, and you can (and should) always communicate directly with the professor or the TA should you feel that you require immediate attention.

UNIVERSITY OF VICTORIA

Department of Psychology
Important Course Policy Information
Spring Session 2024

Accessible Learning

The University of Victoria is committed to creating a learning experience that is as accessible as possible. If you are registered with the Centre for Accessible Learning and anticipate or experience any barriers to learning in this course, please feel welcome to discuss your concerns with me. If you are a student with a disability or chronic health condition, you can meet with a CAL advisor to discuss access and accommodations.

Attendance and Absences

Attendance is important. Students are expected to attend all classes in which they are enrolled. Students may be assigned a final grade of N or debarred from writing final examinations if they fail to satisfy a minimum attendance requirement set by the instructor for lectures, laboratories, online course discussions or learning activities, tutorials, or other learning activities set out in the course outline.

Medical documentation for short-term absences is not required (approved by Senate). Students who cannot attend due to illness are asked to notify their instructors immediately. If illness, accident, or family affliction causes a student to miss the final exam or to fail to complete any required assignment/assessment by the end of the term students are required to submit a request for academic concession (see below).

Children and Pets

If you need to bring your children or pet to class, please do not hesitate to do so. It is understood that sometimes this is necessary due to care circumstances. However, please aim to have minimal class disturbance so that student learning is not impacted.

Class Recording and Auto-Captioning Statement

The instructor may record class sessions and those recordings may be made available to all students in the class via Brightspace. If you have questions or concerns regarding class recording and privacy please contact privacyinfo@uvic.ca

Auto-generated captioning may be enabled in this course. Auto-captioning is highly error-prone, especially for specialized terminology and proper names. Students are asked to refer to the audio feed for clarification of any errors. If you find captioning errors that are offensive, please contact your instructor and/or teaching assistant so that they are aware. If you require captions as part of an academic accommodation, please contact CAL.

The material is protected under copyright law, even if not marked with ©. Any further use or distribution of materials to others requires the written permission of the instructor, except under fair dealing or another exception in the Copyright Act. ## Course Experience Survey (CES)

I value your feedback on this course. Toward the end of term, you will have the opportunity to complete a confidential course experience survey (CES) regarding your learning experience. The survey is vital to providing feedback to the instructor regarding the course and their teaching, as well as to help the department improve the overall program for students in the future. When it is time for you to complete the survey, you will receive an email inviting you to do so. If you do not receive an email invitation, you can go directly to <http://ces.uvic.ca>. You will need to use your UVic NetLink ID to access the survey, which can be done on your laptop, tablet or mobile device. You will be reminded nearer the time, but please be thinking about this important activity, especially the following three questions, during the course.

1. What strengths did your instructor demonstrate that helped you learn in this course?
2. Please provide specific suggestions as to how the instructor could have helped you learn more effectively.
3. Please provide specific suggestions as to how this course could be improved.

Disclaimer

The above schedule, policies, procedures, and assignments in this course are subject to change in the event of extenuating circumstances.

Grading

In classes that are based on a percentage grading scheme, the following Undergraduate Grading Scale is used

Grade	A+	A	A-	B+	B	B-	C+	C	D	F
Percentage	90-100	85-89	80-84	77-79	73-76	70-72	65-69	60-64	51-59	< 50
GP Value	9	8	7	6	5	4	3	2	1	0

Rounding is only applied to the final grade and is rounded up at the 0.5% level (e.g., 84.49% is round to 84% and 84.50% is rounded to 85%).

Medical Documentation for absences

No medical documentation for short-term absences is required (Approved by Senate).

If you are seeking a Withdrawal Extenuating Circumstances or an Aegrotat grade, medical documentation may be required if relevant.

Ombudsperson and Academic Concerns

From the course calendar...

Depending on the nature of the academic matter of concern to the student, the order in which the student should normally try to resolve the matter is: first, the course instructor; second, the Chair of the department; third, the Dean of the faculty; and finally, the Senate.

If you are having an academic concern or problem that cannot be resolved with your instructor or the Department Associate Chair, you may wish to consult with the Office of the Ombudsperson

Policy on Academic Integrity including Plagiarism and Cheating

The Department of Psychology fully endorses and intends to enforce rigorously the Senate Policy on Academic Integrity. It is of utmost importance that students who do their work honestly be protected from those who do not. Because this policy is in place to ensure that students carry out and benefit from the learning activities assigned in each course, it is expected that students will cooperate in its implementation.

The offences defined by the policy can be summarized briefly as follows:

1. Plagiarism. You must make sure that the work you submit is your work and not someone else's. There are proper procedures for citing the works of others. The student is responsible for being aware of and using these procedures.
2. Unauthorized Use of an Editor. The use of an editor is prohibited unless the instructor grants explicit written authorization.
3. Multiple Submission. Only under exceptional circumstances may a work submitted to fulfill an academic requirement be used to satisfy another similar requirement. The student is responsible for clarifying this with the instructor(s) involved.
4. Falsifying Materials Subject to Academic Evaluation. This includes falsification of data, use of commercially prepared essays, using information from the Internet without proper citation, citing sources from which material is not actually obtained, etc.
5. Cheating on Assignments, Tests, and Examinations. You may not copy the work of others in or out of class; you may not give your work to others for the purpose of copying; you may not use unauthorized material or equipment during examinations or tests; and you may not impersonate or allow yourself to be impersonated by another at an examination. The Department of Psychology has a policy of not making old examinations available for study purposes. Therefore, use of old exams without the express written permission of the instructor constitutes cheating by the user, and abetting of cheating by the person who provided the exam.
6. Aiding Others to Cheat. It is a violation to help others or attempt to help others to engage in any of the conduct described above.

The use of a generative artificial intelligence (AI) is strictly prohibited in any submitted work (unless expressly endorsed by the instructor as part of an assignment). The Department reserves the right to use AI detectors.

Instructors are expected to make every effort to prevent cheating and plagiarism. This may include the assignment of seating for examinations, asking students to move during examinations, requests to see student identification cards, and other measures as appropriate. Instructors also have available to them a variety of tools and procedures to check for Internet and electronic media-based cheating. In instances of suspected or actual plagiarism or cheating, instructors, following prescribed procedures, are authorized to take steps consistent with the degree of the offence. These measures will range from a zero on the test or assignment or a failing grade for the course, probation within a program to temporary or even permanent suspension from the University.

Rights of Appeal are described in the Policy on Academic Integrity in the University calendar Fall 2023.

1. The Ombudsperson's office: <https://uvicombudsperson.ca/academic-integrity/>
The Office of the Ombudsperson is an independent and impartial resource to assist with the fair resolution of student issues. A confidential consultation can help you understand your rights and responsibilities. The Ombudsperson can also clarify information, help navigate procedures, assist with problem-solving, facilitate communication, provide feedback on an appeal, investigate and make recommendations. ### Prerequisites

Students who remain in courses for which they do not have the prerequisites do so at their own risk. Students who complete courses without prerequisites ARE NOT exempt from having to complete the prerequisite course(s) if such courses are required for the degree program.

Program Requirements

For more information see the UVic Calendar.

Registration Status

Students are responsible for verifying their registration status. Registration status may be verified using My Page, View Schedule. Course adds and drops will not be processed after the deadlines set out in the current UVic Calendar.

Students who do not attend classes must not assume that they have been dropped from a course by an academic unit or an instructor. Courses that are not formally dropped will be given a failing grade, students may be required to withdraw and will be required to pay the tuition fee for the course.

Request for Academic Concessions

Students can apply for academic concessions if their course requirements are affected by (i) unexpected and/or unavoidable circumstances (e.g., illness, family affliction, etc.), or (ii) conflicting responsibilities (e.g., service in the armed forces or first responder, representing the university).

- Request an in-course extension

If you require more time to complete a course requirement or miss a test or midterm exam, then you will need to complete the "In-Course Extension Form" and submit it directly to your course instructor. All course requirements must be completed prior to the submission of final grades.

- What to do if you miss the final exam scheduled during the formal exam period

Apply at Records Services for a "Request for Academic Concession", normally within 10 working days of the date of the exam. Records Services will forward the form to the instructor. If the concession is granted, the instructor will determine how to deal with the situation (for example, a deferred exam). Where a concession is not applied for or where such application is denied, an N grade will be entered on the student's academic record.

- What to do if you require additional time to complete course requirements beyond the normal term.

Apply at Records Services for a "Request for Academic Concession", normally within 10 working days of the end of the course. Records Services will forward the form to the instructor. If the concession is granted, the instructor will determine how to deal with the situation. Where a concession is not applied for or where such application is denied, an N grade will be entered on the student's academic record if the missing work has been deemed required. Note, only required course components may be deferred.

Research Participation Opportunities with the Department of Psychology

The Department of Psychology offers multiple opportunities to participate in research studies over the year. Students are encouraged to learn more about the field of psychology by volunteering in these studies. Information about studies can often be found posted on notice boards around the Department as well as through our Participant Pool webpage at <https://www.uvic.ca/socialsciences/psychology/research/participants/>.
