MEET YOUR INSTRUCTOR

Instructor: Dr. Jessica Rourke

My degrees are in Social-Personality Psychology, with my main area of research being forgiveness. In addition to teaching at UVic, I teach online at TRU, and have either worked or volunteered in the field of restorative justice for over a decade.

Contact: jrourke@uvic.ca

Office hours: Tues 4-5pm COR A277

Contacting Your Instructor:

- Please come to my office hours or contact me at: jrourke@uvic.ca. Do not message me through Brightspace (I will not receive it!)
- Please include "Psyc 431i" in the subject line of your e-mail and make sure you include your name and student number at the end of your message
- Please allow 2 business days for a reply. If I have not replied within that time frame, re-send your message and let me know it is the second time you are sending it
- Please do not contact me to find out when assignments or exams will be graded. As soon as the grades are ready, they will be posted
- You do not an appointment to see me during my office hours, however, priority will be given to those students who have booked an appointment

Course Description

In this course, we will explore the role that psychology plays in our criminal justice system. Specifically, we'll seek to understand how psychologists and psychological theory/research contribute to aspects of criminal investigations and courtroom dynamics. During this course, we will cover a wide array of topics including:

- | | |
|------------------------|-----------------------|
| - police practices | - false confessions |
| - lie detection | - restorative justice |
| - jury decision-making | - Gladue reports |

Course Readings

There is no textbook for this course. Instead, you will be reading selected articles, all of which are available online through the library or a website for which I have provided the URL. You will see the set of readings assigned to be completed prior to class each week in the tentative course schedule on p. 7 – 9.

Course Delivery & Learning Outcomes

This is a 4th year seminar class which means you are expected to meaningfully contribute to the learning of your peers. In hopes of creating a collaborative learning environment, I have tried to optimize opportunities for you to learn from each other (class leaders, in-class group activities).

Although I will do some lecturing, a large portion of class will be discussion-based. I encourage you to bring additional readings, knowledge, and insights from personal experiences into the course. My goals are that by the end of this course you will be able to:

- Engage in meaningful discussion about the ways in which psychology intersects with law at all points of our criminal justice system
 - Critically examine our criminal justice system, with a specific focus on biases that exist within this system
 - Identify and discuss alternatives to our current, mainstream approach to justice-seeking
 - Identify and reflect upon ways in which knowledge from psychology may help to improve our criminal justice system

Respect for Diversity

My intent is that students from diverse backgrounds, perspectives, and life experiences be well-served by this course, that students' diverse learning needs be addressed, and that the diversity that students bring to this class be viewed as a resource, strength, and benefit.

I aim to present materials and activities that are respectful of diversity, including such things as: gender, sexuality, ability, age, body-size, socio-economic status, ethnicity, race, and culture. Your suggestions are encouraged and appreciated. In a constructive way, please let me know how I might improve the effectiveness of the course for you personally or for other students or student groups. If any due dates/test dates conflict with meaningful religious or cultural events in your life, please let me know so we can address that.

Prerequisites

PSYC 300A and two of 320, 330, 375, 385, 386, 387 are prerequisites for this course. Additionally, you must also have completed, or be currently completing, PSYC 300B. Being allowed to register in a course without having completed the prerequisites is rare. If this were to occur, and you remained in this course without having completed the prerequisites, you would be doing so at your own risk.

*Successful completion of this course DOES NOT exempt you from having to complete the prerequisites at a later date, if they are required for your degree program.

Course Website

On Brightspace I will also post:

- the course syllabus
- detailed information about assignments
- information necessary for in-class activities
- class announcements
- assignment dropboxes

Please make sure you regularly check whichever email you've got linked to Brightspace (I recommend linking your UVic email, it will be the most secure) because any announcements posted to Brightspace will be sent to that email.

Brightspace is where you will submit your assignments. There will also be informal discussion forums so you can connect with your classmates (e.g., to form a study group).

*If anything on our website (including documents) presents any accessibility issues, please let me know and I can send you the information in plain format.

Grades

If you are disappointed with a grade, please arrange to meet with me to review the marking at the time the material is graded, not at the end of the term when the final grade is awarded. I will not review a grade/assignment if you contact me later than 5 days after the grade was first posted.

Please note that an A+, A, or A- is earned by work which is technically superior, shows mastery of the subject matter, and in the case of an A+ offers original insight and goes beyond course expectations. Please see information on what constitutes letter grades at UVic in UVic's course policies, beginning on p. 12.

Extensions

Your assessments have a "best by" due date and an "end date". The "best by" date is the due date – you should complete your assessments by those dates. However, I know life happens, so I've also included "end dates" a couple of days after each "best by" date. The end dates are essentially an extension for that assessment and represent the final day you can submit – there is no penalty for submitting by the "end date" rather than the "best by" date.

Should you need an extension, please feel free to speak to me about it BEFORE the due date and complete a "request for in-class deferral" form (available on Brightspace in our "Assessments" Module).

If you are having trouble getting started on an assignment, do not hesitate to make use of our office hours – I would love to help you! For information on Academic Concessions (e.g., Deferred Status Due to Illness, Accident or Family Affliction) please see the UVic Course policy information beginning on p.12.

If You Miss a Test

If you miss a test due to illness or a family emergency, contact me by email within 3 days of the test and explain that you missed the test and why. I will inform you when your make-up test will be held. You will need to complete a “request for in-class deferral” form (available on Brightspace in our “Assessments” Module).

*If you miss a test and fail to contact me within three days of the test date, I will consider you to have not completed a major course requirement and will assign an N mark (failure due to not completing a course requirement) for the course.

If You Require Special Arrangements Due to a Diagnosed Condition

1. You must be officially registered with the Centre for Accessible Learning – please see <https://www.uvic.ca/services/cal/onlineservices/register/index.php> for more information. I will automatically be informed of your registration with them.
2. Prior to your test, if you have any questions about your accommodation, please contact me, via email: jrouke@uvic.ca

*UVic is committed to creating a learning experience that is as accessible as possible. If you anticipate or experience any barriers to learning in this course, please feel welcome to discuss your concerns with me. If you have a disability or chronic health condition, or think you may have a disability, you may also want to meet with an advisor at the Centre for Accessible Learning (CAL).

In accordance with UVic's policies, if you complete all course requirements (2 tests, Court Report), you are not eligible for an academic concession. This means you can only request a deferral for the completion of the required course components (2 tests, Court Report) and not for non-essential components. *******

Assignment Details

Mandatory Course Components

- Writing both tests + the Court Report, are mandatory completion requirements to pass this course (not doing so will result in a grade of “N”). Please see p. 10 for further (and important!) details.

Tests

- There are 2 non-cumulative, tests in this course. The first (a series of short answer questions) will be written online during class time and you are allowed paper notes to support your writing of it. The second (either a series of short answer questions or one larger, integrated question) will be given as a take-home reflection (due to Brightspace April 11; end date Apr 12). There is no final exam during the formal exam period.

Assignment Submissions (see p. 5-6 for policy on extensions)

- Assignments will be submitted to Brightspace. Please submit in either Word or PDF format.
- More detailed criteria for each assignment are posted in the “Assignment Information” section on Brightspace. Please see the detailed criteria for each assignment to make sure you submit an assignment that meets the requirements.

Important: We will be discussing some sensitive topics. As in all courses, please make sure to take care of yourself and check in with me if you need to. Students might discuss sensitive, personal matters – you are expected to maintain confidentiality.

Sexualized Violence Prevention and Response at UVic

UVic takes sexualized violence seriously, and has raised the bar for what is considered acceptable behaviour. We encourage students to learn more about how the university defines sexualized violence and its overall approach by visiting www.uvic.ca/svp. UNIVERSITY OF VICTORIA

Department of Psychology Important Course Policy Information Spring Session 2024

Accessible Learning

The University of Victoria is committed to creating a learning experience that is as accessible as possible. If you are registered with the Centre for Accessible Learning and anticipate or experience any barriers to learning in this course, please feel welcome to discuss your concerns with me. If you are a student with a disability or chronic health condition, you can meet with a CAL advisor to discuss access and accommodations.

Attendance and Absences

Attendance is important. Students are expected to attend all classes in which they are enrolled. Students may be assigned a final grade of N or debarred from writing final examinations if they fail to satisfy a minimum attendance requirement set by the instructor for lectures, laboratories, online course discussions or learning activities, tutorials, or other learning activities set out in the course outline.

Medical documentation for short-term absences is not required (approved by Senate). Students who cannot attend due to illness are asked to notify their instructors immediately. If illness, accident, or family affliction causes a student to miss the final exam or to fail to complete any required assignment/assessment by the end of the term students are required to submit a request for academic concession (see below).

Children and Pets

If you need to bring your children or pet to class, please do not hesitate to do so. It is understood that sometimes this is necessary due to care circumstances. However, please aim to have minimal class disturbance so that student learning is not impacted.

Class Recording and Auto-Captioning Statement

The instructor may record class sessions and those recordings may be made available to all students in the class via Brightspace. If you have questions or concerns regarding class recording and privacy please contact privacyinfo@uvic.ca

Auto-generated captioning may be enabled in this course. Auto-captioning is highly error-prone, especially for specialized terminology and proper names. Students are asked to refer to the audio feed for clarification of any errors. If you find captioning errors that are offensive, please contact your instructor and/or teaching assistant so that they are aware. If you require captions as part of an academic accommodation, please contact CAL.

Commitment to Inclusivity, Diversity, and Respectful Environments in the Classroom and Online

The University of Victoria is committed to providing a positive and supportive and safe learning and working environment for all its members. All members of the university community have the right to this experience and the responsibility to help create such an environment. The University will not tolerate racism, sexualized violence, or any form of discrimination, bullying, or harassment.

Please be advised that, by logging into UVic's learning systems or interacting with online resources and course-related communication platforms, you are engaging in a University activity.

All interactions within this environment are subject to the university expectations and policies. Any concerns about student conduct may be reviewed and responded to in accordance with the appropriate university policy.

To report concerns about online student conduct: onlineconduct@uvic.ca

Copyright

All course content and materials are made available by instructors for educational purposes and for the exclusive use of students registered in their class¹. The material is protected under copyright law, even if not marked with ©. Any further use or distribution of materials to others requires the written permission of the instructor, except under fair dealing or another exception in the Copyright Act. Violations may result in disciplinary action under the Resolution of Non-Academic Misconduct Allegations policy \(AC1300\) or the Academic Integrity Policy, whichever is more appropriate for the situation.

Course Experience Survey (CES)

I value your feedback on this course. Toward the end of term, you will have the opportunity to complete a confidential course experience survey (CES) regarding your learning experience. The survey is vital to providing feedback to the instructor regarding the course and their teaching, as well as to help the department improve the overall program for students in the future. When it is time for you to complete the survey, you will receive an email inviting you to do so. If you do not receive an email invitation, you can go directly to <http://ces.uvic.ca>. You will need to use your UVic NetLink ID to access the survey, which can be done on your laptop, tablet or mobile device. You will be reminded nearer the time, but please be thinking about this important activity, especially the following three questions, during the course.

1. What strengths did your instructor demonstrate that helped you learn in this course?
2. Please provide specific suggestions as to how the instructor could have helped you learn more effectively.
3. Please provide specific suggestions as to how this course could be improved.

Disclaimer

The above schedule, policies, procedures, and assignments in this course are subject to change in the event of extenuating circumstances.

Grading

In classes that are based on a percentage grading scheme, the following Undergraduate Grading Scale is used

Grade	A+	A	A-	B+	B	B-	C+	C	D	F
Percentage	90-100	85-89	80-84	77-79	73-76	70-72	65-69	60-64	51-59	< 50
GP Value	9	8	7	6	5	4	3	2	1	0

Rounding is only applied to the final grade and is rounded up at the 0.5% level (e.g., 84.49% is round to 84% and 84.50% is rounded to 85%).

Medical Documentation for absences

No medical documentation for short-term absences is required (Approved by Senate).

If you are seeking a Withdrawal Extenuating Circumstances or an Aegrotat grade, medical documentation may be required if relevant.

Ombudsperson and Academic Concerns

From the course calendar...

Depending on the nature of the academic matter of concern to the student, the order in which the student should normally try to resolve the matter is: first, the course instructor; second, the Chair of the department; third, the Dean of the faculty; and finally, the Senate.

If you are having an academic concern or problem that cannot be resolved with your instructor or the Department Associate Chair, you may wish to consult with the Office of the Ombudsperson (<https://uvicombudsperson.ca>). Current contact information for the office can be found here <https://uvicombudsperson.ca/contact/>.

¹ Syllabi belong to the department through which the course is administered.

Policy on Academic Integrity including Plagiarism and Cheating

The Department of Psychology fully endorses and intends to enforce rigorously the Senate Policy on Academic Integrity. It is of utmost importance that students who do their work honestly be protected from those who do not. Because this policy is in place to ensure that students carry out and benefit from the learning activities assigned in each course, it is expected that students will cooperate in its implementation.

The offences defined by the policy can be summarized briefly as follows:

1. Plagiarism. You must make sure that the work you submit is your work and not someone else's. There are proper procedures for citing the works of others. The student is responsible for being aware of and using these procedures.
2. Unauthorized Use of an Editor. The use of an editor is prohibited unless the instructor grants explicit written authorization.
3. Multiple Submission. Only under exceptional circumstances may a work submitted to fulfill an academic requirement be used to satisfy another similar requirement. The student is responsible for clarifying this with the instructor(s) involved.
4. Falsifying Materials Subject to Academic Evaluation. This includes falsification of data, use of commercially prepared essays, using information from the Internet without proper citation, citing sources from which material is not actually obtained, etc.
5. Cheating on Assignments, Tests, and Examinations. You may not copy the work of others in or out of class; you may not give your work to others for the purpose of copying; you may not use unauthorized material or equipment during examinations or tests; and you may not impersonate or allow yourself to be impersonated by another at an examination. The Department of Psychology has a policy of not making old examinations available for study purposes. Therefore, use of old exams without the express written permission of the instructor constitutes cheating by the user, and abetting of cheating by the person who provided the exam.
6. Aiding Others to Cheat. It is a violation to help others or attempt to help others to engage in any of the conduct described above.

The use of a generative artificial intelligence (AI) is strictly prohibited in any submitted work (unless expressly endorsed by the instructor as part of an assignment). The Department reserves the right to use AI detectors.

Instructors are expected to make every effort to prevent cheating and plagiarism. This may include the assignment of seating for examinations, asking students to move during examinations, requests to see student identification cards, and other measures as appropriate. Instructors also have available to them a variety of tools and procedures to check for Internet and electronic media-based cheating. In instances of suspected or actual plagiarism or cheating, instructors, following prescribed procedures, are authorized to take steps consistent with the degree of the offence. These measures will range from a zero on the test or assignment or a failing grade for the course, probation within a program to temporary or even permanent suspension from the University.

Rights of Appeal are described in the Policy on Academic Integrity in the University calendar Fall 2023.

Prerequisites

Students who remain in courses for which they do not have the prerequisites do so at their own risk. Students who complete courses without prerequisites ARE NOT exempt from having to complete the prerequisite course(s) if such courses are required for the degree program.

Program Requirements

For more information see the UVic Calendar.

Registration Status

Students are responsible for verifying their registration status. Registration status may be verified using My Page, View Schedule. Course adds and drops will not be processed after the deadlines set out in the current UVic Calendar.

Students who do not attend classes must not assume that they have been dropped from a course by an academic unit or an instructor. Courses that are not formally dropped will be given a failing grade, students may be required to withdraw and will be required to pay the tuition fee for the course.

Request for Academic Concessions

Students can apply for academic concessions if their course requirements are affected by (i) unexpected and/or unavoidable circumstances (e.g., illness, family affliction, etc.), or (ii) conflicting responsibilities (e.g., service in the armed forces or first responder, representing the university).

- Request an in-course extension
If you require more time to complete a course requirement or miss a test or midterm exam, then you will need to complete the "In-Course Extension Form" and submit it directly to your course instructor. All course requirements must be completed prior to the submission of final grades.
- What to do if you miss the final exam scheduled during the formal exam period
Apply at Records Services for a "Request for Academic Concession", normally within 10 working days of the date of the exam. Records Services will forward the form to the instructor. If the concession is granted, the instructor will determine how to deal with the situation (for example, a deferred exam). Where a concession is not applied for or where such application is denied, an N grade will be entered on the student's academic record.
- What to do if you require additional time to complete course requirements beyond the normal term.
Apply at Records Services for a "Request for Academic Concession", normally within 10 working days of the end of the course. Records Services will forward the form to the instructor. If the concession is granted, the instructor will determine how to deal with the situation. Where a concession is not applied for or where such application is denied, an N grade will be entered on the student's academic record if the missing work has been deemed required. Note, only required course components may be deferred.

Research Participation Opportunities with the Department of Psychology
