

I am an Assistant Teaching Professor in the Academic and Technical Writing Program (ATWP). I joined UVic in 2021. I am currently serving an 18-month term on UVic Senate and the Senate Committee on University Budget as a representative for the Faculty of Humanities. On Senate, I have represented the Humanities by advocating for a Health Humanities in the School of Health, challenging a punitive model in the Academic Integrity Policy, and offering feedback about proposals for a revised Academic Writing Requirement (AWR). As a junior, teaching-stream faculty member, I bring a valuable perspective to Senate. Although I am teaching-stream, I also have a strong research program (I recently won the Faculty of Humanities Early Career Excellence in Research Award) in rhetoric and writing studies, and I am an active member of CASDW and RhetCanada. Thank you for considering my nomination.
