RE: Correspondence Received

Attached please find a letter to Dr. Kevin Hall from the University of Victoria Students' Society, the UVic Graduate Students' Society and the UVic Faculty for Divestment. The authors requested that the letter be submitted to the Board of Governors.
November 6, 2020

Dear President Hall,

This letter was written on the unceded, unsurrendered territories of the Lekwungen and WSÁNEĆ peoples.

We hope your first few days at UVic in your new role have been serving you well, and that you are taking some time for yourself during this exciting new chapter. The University of Victoria Students’ Society, UVic Faculty for Divestment, and the Graduate Students’ Society welcomes you to the University of Victoria and we are looking forward to working closely together in the coming years.

Since 2013, UVic students and faculty have campaigned for the University to divest from fossil fuels and to take substantive climate action. In fact, both students and faculty voted 77% in favour of the UVic divesting from fossil fuels in separate referendums (2015 and 2019, respectively). Over the last two years, there has been a successful election of students who have made divestment a central part of their platform for both student government and representation on University bodies. UVic students and faculty members have also shown their strong support for divestment at numerous Board of Governors meetings. Faculty, staff and students at UVic strongly support full divestment of the University's Endowment Funds.

The financial argument for divestment is growing stronger by the day. So far this year, the UVic Foundation has lost another $9 million on its fossil energy investments (Rowe, J., Carroll, W., Adamson, E., & Hemmerling, 2020). We believe that the rapidly increasing negative trends in fossil fuel industries indicate that divestment would better protect the University’s endowment from stranded assets and market upheaval (Mercure, J. F. A. et al., 2018; Sblis Research, 2019).

In January 2020, the Board of Governors responded to ongoing student protests and calls to action with a Short-Term Responsible Investment Policy. This policy only applies to one smaller fund, not the main endowment fund. During our own research to analyze the effectiveness of the Short-Term Responsible Investment Policy, and through discussions with the Foundation
Treasurer and the Chair of the working groups responsible for its implementation, it became clear that there are major gaps in the policy’s Scope 1, 2 and 3 data that make it near impossible to "materially lower the carbon emissions across the entire portfolio by 45 per cent by 2030" (University of Victoria, 2020) through their carbon footprinting approach (Fraser, A., 2017).

We also believe that there is an opportunity to align UVic’s commitments to reconciliation and sustainable futures through divestment. Both of these priorities are currently clouded by the university’s fossil fuel investments. The endowment fund remains invested in Imperial Oil, for example, which along with its parent company (Exxon Mobil) has a long history of climate change denial. Likewise, the fund is invested in Enbridge which is currently pursuing a contentious pipeline project (Line 3) that is opposed by The Red Lake Band of Chippewa, and the White Earth Band of Ojibwe due to the degradation it will bring to their lands. Indigenous communities often experience the greatest harms from the fossil fuel industry and worsening climate crisis, despite continuing to be active stewards of their lands.

We think it is important for UVic to align its branding with its actions and fully divest from fossil fuels across all asset classes by 2025. Divestment excludes all companies engaged in the extraction, processing and transportation of coal, oil and natural gas, as well as coal-fired utilities. We hope to have the opportunity to work together as we forge a more sustainable and just future for the University and its endowment funds.

We know that together, we can support the University’s transformation into an institution of true climate leadership.

In solidarity,

SUBMISSION TO THE UVIC BOARD OF GOVERNORS

November 12, 2020

To: Board of Governors

From: Chris Horbachewski, Vice-President External Relations

cc: Dr. Kevin Hall, President and Vice-Chancellor

Meeting Date: November 24, 2020

Subject: External Relations Update

In support of UVic’s Strategic Framework, External Relations connects UVic and the world around it by enhancing and promoting the UVic Edge, by building relationships, seeking resources, and building community to support and enhance the University of Victoria. The following report provides an update on our activities in:

- Communicating the UVic mission and story
- Building meaningful partnerships
- Fostering a culture of philanthropy
- Celebrating success and excellence
- Enhancing community through cultural and other activities

COMMUNICATING THE UVIC MISSION AND STORY

Supporting Communications for University Initiatives

- The central site on UVic’s response to COVID-19 continues to provide important information for UVic community members including health and safety, general updates, information specific to students, faculty, librarians, and staff, and an impact scale that outlines each rating level for our operations and services.

- Following the launch of the new UVic.ca web-presence, several follow-up activities have taken place to move the project into a phase of “continuous improvement”. Site performance tracking and analytics reports are in place or are being developed. Governance planning has been approved in principle and we’re now working toward a campus-wide Strategic Web Advisory Group to help establish integrated priorities for future website development and the coordination of large and multi-unit web communications strategies.

- Work is continuing throughout the fall to bring the Faculty of Graduate Studies website in line with the new central sites.

- Work has begun on the Research website with a kick-off meeting mid-October to initiate the redevelopment of the university’s Research web presence in line with the university’s priorities and the central sites.

- Communications planning, advice and support is being provided, including on the web, for university’s current priorities such as the Covid-19 Research Accelerator Fund, fall graduation and the National Centre for Indigenous Laws.

- Strategic and tactical support is being provided through a communications, marketing and social media strategy to support the Engineering and Computer Science expansion project in order to secure funding, recruit students and faculty, and advance UVic’s reputation.

Providing Internal Supports

- The print edition of the Ring campus newspaper was distributed on October 8, including articles on a new national exhibition on the WWII-era dispossession of Japanese Canadians, some good news about UVic’s Science Venture program which was delivered online, and an undergraduate researcher who published a significant finding in wool dog research which was later covered by the New York Times, CBC, CTV among others.

- The Campus Checklist email newsletter for staff and faculty has resumed its regular biweekly publication. Confirmed engagement of 50% among more than 4,700 recipients shows continued reader interest for the news digest.

- Community Report: The fall edition of the twice-annual Community Report is planned to appear in the Times Colonist in mid-November. The feature story will focus on UVic research that will help our society respond to and recover from the COVID-19 crisis, with supporting messaging about the university’s Research Accelerator Fund. Additional stories will include a profile of a fall 2020 student graduate as well as an introduction to new UVic President Kevin Hall.

- UVic Speakers Bureau: In preparation for the September-April season, the bureau gathered information about which talks could be delivered remotely, and bureau promotions now reflect that 80% of more than 500 topics can be delivered by virtual means. This work has helped demonstrate that there is still a strong appetite for the bureau’s services in the community, with over 80 talks booked during the first seven weeks of the Bureau’s season.
Building Profile and Presence

The fall 2020 advertising campaign targeting prospective undergrad students in key recruitment regions across Canada launched on October 19 on Instagram. Consideration is being given to running the campaign in priority international markets. A sub-campaign focused on engineering and computer science students will launch mid-November.

Media Presence

- In the six-month period between April 1, 2020 and September 30, 2020, there were a total of 11,600 stories with an audience reach of 1.15 billion. (Reach is about the potential audience for a single mention or a group of mentions; it is sometimes referred to by the print media term, “circulation.”) Compared to the same reporting period a year ago, national coverage increased by 29%, with total UVic stories in national target markets at their highest number since these reports began. For overall stories, same time period last year saw higher volumes (13,803 total stories), which is entirely due to the extensive coverage (3,500 total stories) about the tragic Sept. 13, 2019 bus accident.
- Our approach to building a strong media presence for UVic is driven by a strategic focus on the national and Lower Mainland markets, as well as areas of institutional research strength, and also on opportunities to engage the Greater Victoria community through local news coverage. While the pandemic has shifted the focus of newsrooms and the potential for coverage in some areas, UVic continued to have a strong media presence in target markets throughout this reporting period.
- The number of stories spiked in June 2020 after the full resumption of UVic news releases following the initial months of the pandemic. Media interest in pandemic-related news continued unabated throughout the summer, with UVic research initiatives and experts on COVID-related topics prominently featured in multiple stories.
- Of note was the CISUR study on alcohol warning labels; the announcement about UVic’s next president; the $27M expansion for UVic’s law school including Canada’s first National Centre for Indigenous Laws; as well as a 40% increase in The Globe and Mail coverage on UVic over the same period in 2019, with expert commentary on a variety of topics being a key driver.

Other initiatives and projects

- Positioning UVic during COVID-19: A positioning strategy to support university priorities during the pandemic has been developed that will allow the university to be nimble and responsive to changes and input from within our external and internal environments.
- Presidential Transition: Jamie Cassels’ term as president ended at the end of October and his contributions were recognized earlier in the month. A special “Farewell to Jamie Cassels” webpage was created — it has multiple videos featuring members of the UVic community.
including BOG chair Cathy MacIntyre offering their thanks and reflections on Jamie Cassels' time as president of the university. Jamie also sat down with Chancellor Shelagh Rogers for a video conversation to reflect on his seven years as president of the University of Victoria. Articles about Jamie are included in the November Ring and the forthcoming edition of the Torch. Additional communications were distributed to inform the campus community that the University Centre has been renamed the Jamie Cassels Centre. Communications surrounding the arrival of Kevin Hall are well underway. Highlights include a new web presence for the Office of the President within the central uvic.ca site, communications with the campus community and announcement advertising targeting leaders in Victoria, the Lower Mainland, Toronto and Ottawa.

Strengthening Connections and Engagement with Community

- Respect and Reconciliation Communications: Orange Shirt Day at UVic went virtual this year, with a video featuring a conversation between UVic Chancellor Shelagh Rogers and Phyllis Webstad, whose story sparked the drive to recognize Orange Shirt Day. Social media coverage and promotion of this event was retweeted and amplified by accounts across Canada. The feature webpage for OSD included a photo wall featuring photos submitted by UVic community members in their orange shirts. Approximately 300 people appeared in the photos.
- This month, 24 students will come together to learn and deliberate about democracy and civic engagement as part of the Students’ Dialogue on Democratic Engagement - a unique partnership between UVic, the Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia and Government House. A democratic lottery was used to select interested students to help ensure a representative sample of the UVic population. The students will be engaged in the dialogue through deliberative mini-publics – a process that brings together a group of individuals who are representative of the community, to engage in robust deliberation and learning about a particular topic. A final report on the process and reflections from students will be available in January.
- The South Island Prosperity Partnership will be hosting Rising Economy Week from November 16-20. The week of immersive virtual events is focused on moving the needle on economic recovery and creating a future of vibrant prosperity. SIPP’s Regional Economic Recovery Strategy will be released during Rising Economy Week. Ten of the 50 recommendations in the report involve post-secondary institutions. The Executive Director of Community and Government Relations is a SIPP board member and also Chair of the Education and Skills subcommittee, which contributed to the strategy.

BUILDING MEANINGFUL PARTNERSHIPS

Government

On October 24th: BC’s General Election took place with early results indicating that Premier John Horgan would be re-elected with a Majority NDP Government:
- There are still approximately 500,000 mail-in ballots left to be counted, and several races were deemed ‘too close to call’ on election night. ElectionsBC will begin the processing of verifying all mail-in ballots with the final count to begin on November 13th;
• Premier Horgan has indicated that he will wait for all ballots to be counted before asking the Lieutenant Governor to form Government;
• Former UVic Law Professor, and former MP for Victoria Murray Rankin is projected to be MLA for Oak Bay-Gordon Head; and
• Final Election Night Seat Projections are:
  ▪ 55 – NDP;
  ▪ 29 – BC Liberal; and
  ▪ 3 – BC Greens.

FOSTERING A CULTURE OF PHILANTHROPY

As of November 5, 2020 we have raised $15,186,000 toward our $20M goal and with further gifts in the pipeline we are confident of a strong end to the fiscal year. To date 2,498 donors have made a gift.

CELEBRATING SUCCESS AND EXCELLENCE

• Annual Giving direct mail, email and calling appeals have been ongoing since late September and we have received a very positive response, primarily in support of student initiatives in these challenging times.
• We celebrated Philanthropy Week November 9-15th and December 1 is “Giving Tuesday”. These initiatives raise the profile and celebrate the impact of philanthropy across our campus.
• The Alumni Relations team have been very busy planning and executing a number of successful virtual events including:
  o The first virtual UVic Alumni Association AGM was held on Oct 21 with 50+ in attendance and featuring Uvic alumni o Virtual Lipson Lecture hosted by Science with Dr. Timothy Caulfield was held on Oct 22 with 400+ in attendance o Event targeted to young alumni, The Art of Seeking Employment was held on Oct 26 with 100+ in attendance.
  o “London Chef” Virtual Cooking Class on November 17
  o Drive through Holiday Lights December 7th
• The fall issue of the Torch was published mid November and featured a farewell to President Cassels.
• We are currently analyzing and compiling the results of the Alumni Engagement survey that was conducted in early 2020, with a view to sharing key data with the Alumni Association Board, UVic leadership and other key stakeholders across campus. This data will help us set the direction for a future strategy.
• We are undertaking a number of reviews of policies and procedures, including:
  o Philanthropic Counting Guidelines and practises;
  o Facility Naming procedures;
  o Chairs and Professorships policy and procedures (in collaboration with VPAC and VPR).
  o We have engaged an external consultant to deliver training to the Development Officers in January and February 2021. The primary goal is to drive successful donor and prospect engagement as we navigate the challenges of not being able to interact face to face.
Finally, the Alumni & Development office have developed detailed plans for introducing Dr. Hall to donors and alumni in the first few months of his presidency.

ENHANCING COMMUNITY THROUGH CULTURAL AND OTHER ACTIVITIES

Chancellor Activities
For the months of October and November, Chancellor Shelagh Rogers hosted a virtual Lafayette Health Awareness Forum “The Art of Living in the Time of COVID” in conjunction with the UVic Institute on Aging & Lifelong Health. She also participated in Indigenous Recognition events and narrated and hosted a virtual tour for a CanAssist video. Chancellor Rogers also recognized UVic’s fall graduating students, attended Board of Governor meetings, and participated in Senate and Senate committee meetings.

Farquhar Auditorium
- The Farquhar remains active with rentals for rehearsals, recording and live-streaming.
- The Victoria Symphony is the primary venue user at present with additional individual musician and small group use.
- The UVic Ticket Centre remains open with reduced hours due to staff redeployment. The Ticket Centre is supporting the Greater Victoria Youth Orchestra and Victoria Symphony with subscription sales and donations.
- The Farquhar remains ineligible for most recovery/relief funding available to other venues and arts organizations within the arts and culture sector. We continue to explore options for project funding that may be available.

Ceremonies & Events

Elevating Devices Safety

1. In accordance with the provision of the Safety Standards Act, the University of Victoria currently operates and maintains 74 elevating devices at the Gordon Head Campus.

2. Regular inspections are conducted by a Provincial Inspector.

3. All units are regularly serviced by workers qualified under the Act. Several contracted service providers.

4. Each unit has an installation number assigned by, and registered with, Technical Safety B.C. Individual Certificates for each elevating device are on file and renewed on an annual basis.

5. A complete detailed listing of elevating devices including location, Certificate Number, and all inspection reports, is maintained by and available upon request from UVic FMGT.

Heritage Conservation Act

1. There are no buildings on Campus which have been designated as Provincial, Regional, or Municipal Heritage Sites.

   The Corporation of the District of Saanich in their “Saanich Heritage Structures: An Inventory” dated 1991, lists nine (9) University buildings as having heritage significance:

   - Huts A, B, E, Q, and R. They are all of the huts that remain from the “Gordon Head Army Camp”, Department of National Defence 1940.

   - Y Hut – the Maritime Naval / Communications Centre Building is located off of McCoy Road. UVic has had discussions with the Saanich Heritage Foundation for possible heritage designation. Part of the discussion includes possible relocation as part of the feasibility assessment for the rugby field expansion.

   - Hamsterley Farm Water Tower located at 2489 Sinclair Road. UVic has had discussions with the Saanich Heritage Foundation for possible heritage designation.

Major Risks:

- Schedule risk associated with the opening date of Building One and its alignment with the academic calendar means there is no float available for critical path tasks on the construction schedule. Any impacts such as labour shortages, material lead times, site coordination, design coordination or future COVID-19 impacts have potential to impact Building One’s opening date of August 31, 2022. To fully assess the financial impact of a schedule delay, an assessment of the project’s financial model will be required.

Meeting Date: November 23, 2020

Subject: 2020/21 Enrolment Analysis Report

Basis for Jurisdiction: University Act, s 27(1) and s 27(2)(r)
Strategic Framework, Strategy 1.1
Strategic Enrolment Management Plan

Strategic Relevance:
The Enrolment Analysis Report aligns with the university’s Strategic Framework objective to actively recruit, retain and support the success of outstanding students from diverse regions and backgrounds.

The Strategic Enrolment Management (SEM) Plan, which launched in April 2019, continues to guide UVic’s recruitment and retention efforts. Our goals include recruiting the very best undergraduate students, diversifying our international undergraduate student population by geographic location and program of study, increasing our enrolment of Indigenous students, and increasing under-represented populations. We also aim to increase the proportion of graduate students, especially in research programs.
Background:
This annual report describes UVic’s enrolment projections for the current academic year and contains information about the enrolment size and composition of the university’s student population, including undergraduates and graduates, and domestic and international students. Trends in applications, admissions and new registrations are also included. In addition to providing historical context, the report highlights initiatives underway to support future healthy enrolments at UVic. This year, the report also includes information about how the COVID-19 pandemic has impacted enrolment, starting with the summer 2020 session.

Summary:
UVic has maintained stable enrolment in the current pandemic environment, and we had our most successful summer session to date in terms of registrants. Our 2020 fall term headcount is 22,063, including 19,055 undergraduate students and 3,008 graduate students. Our annualized student FTE enrolment is expected to be about 19,036—a decrease of only 197 FTEs from last year—but there continues to remain some uncertainty with the upcoming spring term.

UVic is projected to exceed the 2020/21 enrolment targets set by the Ministry of Advanced Education, Skills and Training by 4%. For domestic undergraduates specifically, we are on track to exceed the target by 35 FTEs and for graduate students by 257 FTEs.

COVID-19 has impacted our ability to attract new international students, with international enrolment down about 4% compared to last year. However, we still expect to exceed our internal international undergraduate target by 428 FTEs.

This year, in response to the pandemic, UVic has made significant efforts and investments towards ensuring all of our students receive a quality education and university experience. We continue to actively monitor enrolment levels throughout the academic terms and respond as needed to support student recruitment, retention and success.

Summary and strategic context

Our institutional plans, including our Strategic Framework and Strategic Enrolment Management (SEM) Plan, are positioning us to attract, support and develop a diverse community of talented students.

The SEM Plan, launched in April 2019, continues to help guide our recruitment and retention efforts. In the context of remaining about the same size, our commitments include recruiting the very best undergraduate students, diversifying our international undergraduate student population by geographic location and program of study, and increasing our enrolment of Indigenous students. We also aim to increase the proportion of graduate students, especially in research programs.

UVic continues to moderate new intake by raising admissions cut-offs, including this year, which reinforces quality while enabling us to remain at about the same size. The average entering grades of our new students have been consistent and sit above 85%. Our scholarship programs help support our recruitment and retention efforts.

Also as per SEM, we are committed to doubling Indigenous enrolment over the next nine years across all faculties. To achieve this, UVic continues to implement pathways, programs and supports specifically for Indigenous learners. Since 2010/11, Indigenous student enrolment has grown from 888 to 1,408—an increase of 44%. Applications and new admissions have also been increasing.

Impact of COVID-19 on enrolment

Despite the challenges of the current pandemic, we expect to achieve both our internal enrolment targets and the targets set by the BC Ministry of Advanced Education, Skills and Training (MAEST).

Starting in March 2020 and continuing into the summer and fall terms, it was necessary to shift to predominantly online learning and services to ensure the health and safety of our community, and so that students had equitable access to education. We were particularly successful in meeting student demand for courses this summer, and increased overall enrolment by over 10% compared to last year.

For the entire academic year, our annualized student full-time equivalent (FTE) enrolment is expected to be about 19,036—a decrease of 197 FTEs from last year. Our 2020 fall term headcount is 22,063, with a projected annualized FTE of 16,447 undergraduate students or a headcount of 19,055, and a projected annualized FTE of 2,589 graduate students or a headcount of 3,008.

While overall registrations are about the same compared to last year, the new entering class is reduced, mostly owing to fewer new international students due to travel restrictions. Overall international enrolment is down 4% percent compared to last year, but we still expect to meet our targets.

Online learning is a new experience for many of our students, and we have seen a greater incidence of part-time enrolment since transition to predominantly online education. In general, part-time studies have been on a long-term decline. This year, there is a 20% increase in part-time enrolment, from 4,824 students last fall to 5,785 students this fall. The Senate-approved extension to the deadline to drop courses this fall provided students with additional flexibility in managing their course loads. We saw about a 100 EET (or course FTEs) drop over that additional week—a key contributor to the increase in part-time rates. The majority of our undergraduate students, however, are enrolled in full-time studies: 13,220 out of 19,055.

About 77% of our students come from outside of the Greater Victoria Area. By offering predominantly online learning, these students have been able to safely access courses, which has helped us to maintain stable enrolment during the pandemic. Further, this past year has demonstrated that some students prefer the online or hybrid educational experience as it affords convenience and provides a level of safety for those with health concerns.

The university continues to invest in resources and supports for students to ensure consistent recruitment and retention rates. For example, additional teaching supports in the form of teaching assistants and sessionals, a new suite of teaching and learning technologies, additional scholarship and emergency bursary funding, and the New Student Connect program. All students have remote access to academic advising, tutoring, counselling services, and other academic and non-academic support services they would normally access in person, including resources specifically tailored to the needs of Indigenous students and those with accessibility challenges.
Annualized FTEs

Full-time equivalent (FTE) enrolment is a weighted measure of student enrolment that takes into account course load. This measure is the principal enrolment accountability with the province. For undergraduates, the FTE for a particular term is calculated by dividing a student’s total registered units by the expected unit total for that particular program and year level. For full-time graduate students, the term FTE is 1.0, while for part-time graduate students, it is 0.33.

An annualized FTE measures course activity over a 12-month period, beginning with the summer term. For an undergraduate, this is the sum of the FTEs for the summer, fall and spring terms. For a graduate student, the annualized FTE is the sum of the three FTEs divided by 3.

Grant funding from the province is accompanied by undergraduate and graduate enrolment targets and accountabilities. This represents our “MAEST-funded target” and an annual “Institutional Accountability Plan and Report” is submitted through the Board to MAEST every summer.

Each Faculty has undergraduate and graduate enrolment targets and is resourced to meet those targets. Deans subsequently set enrolment expectations within their Faculties. There is no mechanical formula for per-student funding in the Faculties since costs and resources vary substantially depending on several factors, including the nature of the pedagogy, services, technologies, research equipment and related personnel, labour market differences by discipline, the success of the Faculty in generating additional resources, economies of scale, etc.

Over the past decade, our greatest enrolment growth has been in international students. This population has also been the most affected by the pandemic as Canada has restricted inbound travel and implemented strict quarantine rules. Immigration services, including those related to study permits, have largely been shut down since March. Home countries have also limited outbound travel, and Visa application and biometric centres around the world have reduced capacity or closed entirely. As a result, overall international enrolment is down 4% this year compared to last.

The MAEST sets targets for UVic based on annualized FTEs. UVic is projected to exceed the 2020/21 enrolment targets by 4%. For domestic undergraduates specifically, we are on track to exceed the target by 35 FTEs and for graduate students by 257 FTEs. We are well positioned to continue this trend, even as we continue to plan and respond to the pandemic.

UVic sets a higher internal target for enrolments for the purpose of its own academic and budget planning, which takes into account undergraduate international students (who are not funded by government and pay full international tuition). International graduate students are included along with domestic students in the MAEST graduate targets—out of a 2020/21 annualized total of 2,589 FTE, 958 were international. Our total 2020/21 enrolment is 292 over the MAEST target which comprises domestic undergraduates and all graduates. We further exceed our undergraduate international student goal by 428 FTE.

Our overall enrolment of 19,036 exceeds our target of 18,315 by 720 FTE.

University of Victoria internal enrolment level
Headcounts
Student enrolment is usually measured in two ways: as a headcount or as a full-time equivalent (FTE). A headcount is an unweighted count of individuals, where part-time and full-time students contribute equally to the final tally. Headcount totals are always referenced to a particular date and term, such as November 1 in the fall term.

While headcount enrolment at UVic has increased by more than 4% over the last seven years, enrolments within most Faculties have been fairly stable and within a range related to their enrolment targets. The greatest headcount growth has been in the Faculty of Engineering (+39%), followed by Social Sciences (+12%). The largest decrease has been in Human and Social Development (-18%), where enrolments in nursing are highly dependent on partnership agreements with other institutions.

Lower enrolments in the Faculty of Graduate Studies up until this year were almost entirely due to the Master of Public Admin program, which has refocused from a professional, course-based master’s program to a research master’s program. This year, due to limits on international travel imposed by the pandemic, enrolments in the Master of Global Business are also sharply down.

Indigenous enrolment
Since 2010/11, Indigenous student enrolment has grown from 888 to 1,408—an increase of 44%. As part of the SEM Plan, we are committed to doubling Indigenous enrolment across all faculties by 2029, where Indigenous students comprise at least 10% of the overall student population at UVic. Currently, Indigenous students comprise about 6% of the overall student population.
Because Indigenous students may self-identify at any point in their education, there is some uncertainty as to actual enrolment numbers, which may be higher than indicated. The student headcounts show strong growth, particularly in the Faculties of Engineering and Law.

Sources of new students (domestic and international)

UVic sets enrolment targets every year for its new incoming classes to ensure overall enrolment levels are met and that we achieve goals associated with new and growing programs (engineering, computer science, and law are current examples) as well as SEM goals such as diversifying international enrolments and growing Indigenous enrolments. The applications and admissions cycle requires the setting of enrolment targets and admissions cut-offs to meet those enrolment levels.

Following several years of larger first-year entry classes, smaller new-entry classes have been required to maintain our overall enrolment level. This has been achieved by increasing the recruitment of high achieving students and increasing admissions cut-offs for entry. For the previous three years, UVic has kept the size of the incoming class mostly constant at between 4,300 and 4,500 new undergraduates. This year, due to COVID-19, the number of applicants as well as the overall size of the incoming class for 2020/21 has decreased slightly.

As a destination university, new students come to UVic from across the province, Canada and from around the world. About 77% of our students come from outside of the Greater Victoria Area—the highest proportion of any Canadian university west of Quebec. In terms of geographic distribution, the greatest number of undergraduate registrants have consistently been from Vancouver Island, while the next largest group has been from the Lower Mainland. This year, likely due to COVID-19, the number of admits from Vancouver Island and the Lower Mainland has increased, whereas the number of students admitted from outside Canada has decreased. UVic will continue to stabilize and diversify its international enrolment, with a planned strategy based on our SEM Plan.

The largest group of new undergraduate students are from high schools. The five-year trend of increases from BC colleges follows more than a decade of substantial decreases as local degree opportunities became available across the province in 2008. Recent increases are largely due to strong partnership and pathway agreements. Again, increases to registrants from within BC are primarily due to COVID-19.

UVic currently has students from 121 countries. After Canada, the primary country of origin is China, with the United States a distant second. As part of SEM, we are committed to diversifying the international undergraduate student population by country.

As a result of diversification efforts thus far, the proportion of students from China has declined in the past five years, from 50% to 43% of the overall international student population. In the same timeframe, we have seen an increase in students from India, Iran, South Korea, Vietnam, Nigeria and Brazil.

Challenges, strategies and new initiatives

Since January 2020, UVic has been actively planning for and responding to the COVID-19 pandemic. This fall, we are predominantly online, with about ten percent of undergraduate courses offered in person. We are actively monitoring enrolment for spring session, where an incremental increase in the number of face-to-face courses offerings will be available.

Since 2014/15, there has been a demographic trough of 18 to 24 year olds in the province of BC, which is expected to continue into 2021. With fewer students in this incoming cohort, there is increased competition among post-secondary institutions to recruit the best students. Of BC’s 25 public post-secondary institutions, 16 are under their funded enrolment target. UVic, like the other major research universities, is above target, and our programs remain in high demand.

Nationally, this year, international enrolments are lower. Also, there continues to be enrolment challenges in the Maritimes and Ontario, and there is active recruitment of BC students from out of province. In BC, post-secondary institutions are looking to recruit locally, provincially and in other provinces.

One way institutions are attracting high-quality students is through competitive entrance scholarship programs. UVic annually reviews the size and scope of our scholarship programs to ensure we are competitive and successful in attracting and retaining the best students.

In response to the challenges brought on by the current pandemic, a number of initiatives launched this year to help ensure we achieve our enrolment goals:

- As part of our commitment to high quality programs, we invested in a new suite of learning technologies to deliver online courses effectively—including a new Learning Management System. We also increased access to technology support and launched new websites dedicated to online learning and online teaching.
- We expanded our health and wellness supports by opening a new Student Wellness Centre on campus and launching SupportConnect, a free and confidential 24/7 mental health service for students, regardless of location.
- We designed online pre-arrival and orientation programs to support the transition of new students and introduce them to key resources. We also created the New Student Connect program, which pairs new students with upper-year students in their Faculty or peer group. These senior students help their peers transition to university and navigate academic life, while also building vibrant online communities. About 3,700 students have enrolled, and we continue to expand the peer groups, recently launching groups for Indigenous students, students with lived experience in care, and LGBTQS2+ students.
- We increased emergency bursary funding to meet student need, which students can use to purchase technology or pay for other unexpected expenses. Through the short-term COVID-19 Emergency Bursary, we provided over $1.4 million in funding to 2,000 students.
- We monitor students’ experiences through national and institutional surveys, direct engagement with students and student societies, and social media monitoring.

Further, as part of our ongoing enrolment goals, the following activities are underway:

- We continue to expand our engineering and computer science programs, which includes 500 new student spaces, new faculty positions and student supports. In addition, we are working on an expansion of the Nurse Practitioner program.
- New and evolved academic programs that are high-quality and align with UVic’s strengths and directions, including a Master of Biomedical Engineering and a Master of Management.
- Work continues on the UVic Health Initiative, which will enhance the quality and raise the profile of health-related research, academic programs and related activities.
UVic continues to be a global leader in creating opportunities for Indigenous students and advancing truth and reconciliation. Some recent examples include:

- Expanding the Elders in Residence program and providing Elders with iPads so that they can connect with Indigenous students virtually.
- Increased one-to-one support and culturally relevant co-op opportunities for Indigenous students. The International Indigenous Co-operative Education Program received the 2019 British Columbia Council for International Education’s Award for Outstanding Program in International Education for its high-quality and creative programming in international education.
- New or expanded pathway opportunities for Indigenous students, including the Indigenous Youth 3C Challenge and Indigenous Student Mini-University.
- New or increased scholarships and bursaries. Six new scholarships and awards were offered for the first time in September 2020 and will provide more than $166,000 in additional student funding.
- New or expanding programs such as the Indigenous law JD/JID joint degree, Certificate in Indigenous Language Proficiency and Indigenous Studies Major.
- Our community partnerships have substantially increased this year, with several communities providing language and educational programming, including new partnerships with the Tla’amin, Tseycum and Tsawout Nations.

Conclusion

Although enrolment has been impacted by the pandemic, particularly international enrolment, UVic currently has a healthy enrolment and outlook. We continue to achieve our targets and are well positioned to build on our strengths while enhancing quality and student success.

To continue being successful, the university must continue to focus on and resource quality in our academic programs; take a measured approach to resuming in-person education and services; ensure our outreach activities resonate in the post-secondary market; offer competitive scholarship and bursary programs aligned with our SEM goals; and ensure that key university supports and services are responsive to students’ needs.

The investments and actions we have taken this year in our pivot to online learning will further advance student success and student experience, both as we continue to navigate the current pandemic and beyond.
SUBMISSION TO THE UVIC BOARD OF GOVERNORS

November 6, 2020

To: Operations and Facilities Committee

From: Valerie S. Kuehne, Vice-President Academic and Provost

Meeting Date: November 23, 2020

Subject: Report on Student Financial Aid 2019/20

Basis for Jurisdiction: Strategic Framework, Strategies 1.1 and 4.3

Strategic Relevance:
The Report on Student Financial Aid 2019-20 provides information on UVic’s longstanding priority of recruiting and retaining outstanding students from diverse backgrounds and removing barriers to admission, retention and success.

The report supports the following Strategic Framework strategies:

Strategy 1.1 - Attract, support and develop a diverse community of talented students, faculty and staff through enhanced resources and programs—including scholarships, academic chairs, professional support programs and workplace practices that recognize excellence and promote wellness.

Strategy 4.3 - Increase the number and success of Indigenous students, faculty, staff and leaders at UVic by developing priority recruitment strategies across the university, along with programs to support success.
Summary:
The annual report provides an overview of the types and levels of financial assistance available to undergraduate students and need-based funding received by graduate students during the May 1, 2019 to April 30, 2020 academic year. This includes scholarships, bursaries, awards and work study funding. It is important to note that this timeframe concludes before the impacts of the global COVID-19 pandemic were realized and does not include the COVID-19 Emergency Bursary.

In 2019/20, undergraduate and graduate students received more than $16 million in financial aid from a variety of sources, including operating budget, carry-over (i.e. unspent funds from prior years), annual donor funds and endowed sources of funding. UVic awarded almost $9.2 million in scholarships to 3,100 full-time undergraduate students. Additionally, 2,219 undergraduate students received bursaries and awards valued at more than $5.2 million, and 201 graduate students received bursaries and awards valued at more than $638K. The work study program provided part-time employment opportunities to 522 undergraduate and graduate students who earned more than $906K from September 2019 to April 2020.

From 2014/15 to 2019/20, the annual total value of all forms of student financial aid received by undergraduate students and bursaries, awards and work study funding received by graduate students has increased by $859K or 6%.

The university’s gross expenditures (including expenditures from the specific purpose and sponsored research funds) for scholarships and bursaries for all students has increased by more than $4.9 million or 14%—from $36 million in 2013/14 to almost $41 million in 2019/20.

Summary of student financial aid funding
This report details funding for undergraduate scholarships, undergraduate and graduate bursaries and awards and the work study program administered by the Office of Student Awards and Financial Aid (SAFA). Merit-based awards for graduate students are administered by the Faculty of Graduate Studies and are not included in this report.

Over the past six years, the commitment of additional funding from various sources (base budget, carry-over, annual donor funds and endowed sources) has made it possible to increase both the value and number of undergraduate scholarships and undergraduate and graduate bursaries. While there has been slight fluctuations year-to-year due to planned use of carry-over funds, the overall trend has been robust support for all forms of financial aid.

The following table from UVic’s audited financial statements includes all types of student financial aid received by undergraduate and graduate students expended from general operating, specific purpose, and sponsored research funds.

1SAFA administers bursaries and work-study for both undergraduate and graduate students and the dollar values for these types of aid include funding awarded to graduate students.
sources of funding. This represents a 3% increase in the total dollar value of scholarships awarded in the previous year; reasons for this increase are outlined later in this report.

Scholarships are awarded to undergraduate students in two categories: entrance and in-course. The majority of entrance scholarships are offered based on the admission average of the applicant. There is also a category of entrance scholarships awarded with consideration given to admission average, volunteer commitment, athleticism, leadership, or other criteria specified in the terms of reference for each award.

The majority of in-course scholarships are adjudicated based on grades in a minimum of 12 units of UVic courses in the previous two terms of study while others are awarded based on departmental nomination. There are also in-course scholarships awarded on the basis of specific criteria, as well as grades.

The following table compares all undergraduate scholarships awarded in 2018/19 and 2019/20:

Entrance scholarships

The largest category of entrance scholarships is automatic scholarships awarded based on admission average only. To be considered for this scholarship category in 2019/20, prospective students were required to self-report their grade 12 marks by March 31, 2019.

Students entering with a self-reported admission average of 85% or higher were offered entrance scholarships with values ranging from $2,000 to $6,500. The scholarship offer letter advised that the award would be granted upon confirmation of final grades in August and registration in a full course load in the 2019/20 winter session. The number and total value of offers made each year varies depending on the admission average of each student in the entering class.
The following table details a comparison of all automatic entrance scholarships offered and accepted in 2018/19 and 2019/20:

Automatic entrance scholarships:
- In 2019/20, 1,456 automatic renewable and non-renewable entrance scholarships were accepted, with a total value of $3,721,000.
- There was a 2% increase in the total number of scholarship recipients.
- The average value of entrance scholarships was $2,556.

Automatic renewable entrance scholarships:
- There were 336 offers of renewable entrance scholarships made to eligible applicants in 2019/20 and 136 of those were accepted.
- The entering averages required to qualify for the $20,000 and $26,000 renewable entrance scholarships were:
  - 98.00–100% $26,000 payable at $6,500 per year for four years
  - 96.00–97.99% $20,000 payable at $5,000 per year for four years

In-course scholarships
Undergraduate students who attend UVic in the regular Winter Session are eligible for a number of awards made available through contributions from corporate and individual donors as well as from the university operating budget. The comparison of these in-course scholarships includes the following:
- In 2019/20, 1,238 students who demonstrated academic excellence in their previous year of study at UVic received in-course scholarships with a total value of more than $4 million.
- This is a 12% decrease in the number of in-course scholarship recipients compared to the previous year.
- There was a $15,414 decrease in the total value from the previous year.
• The summary of in-course scholarships includes renewals of entrance scholarships for 269 students with a total value of more than $1.5 million.
• This represents a 5% increase in both the number of scholarship renewals and the total value of renewals.
• In 2018/19, the average in-course scholarship value was $2,880 and increased to $3,276 for 2019/20, representing a 14% increase from the previous year.

Competitiveness of UVic’s entrance scholarship program
With 77% of UVic students coming from outside the south Vancouver Island region, our position as a destination university results in high costs for students who relocate here to study.

In 2012, our scholarship strategy was reviewed to better ensure our competitiveness in recruiting high quality students, to meet our past Strategic Plan goal of being in the top 20% of Canadian universities in terms of expenditures on student financial assistance, and to support our domestic recruitment targets.

There were no changes in UVic’s automatic entrance scholarship values from 2018/19 to 2019/20.

In September 2019, SAFA reviewed the entrance scholarship program and proposed enhancements and new initiatives in support of Goal 1 of UVic’s recently launched Strategic Enrolment Management (SEM) Plan:

Goal 1: By 2024, strengthen the entering domestic undergraduate class by:

a. increasing the % of first-time enrolling students who have an entering average of 80% or higher from 79% to 89%;

b. increasing the % of admitted students with an entering average of at least 90% who choose to register at UVic from 37% to 45%; and
c. enhancing and developing initiatives that increase the representation of under-represented populations, including but not limited to students with lived experience in care and low socio-economic status.

Strategy 2: Re-align and enhance our entrance scholarship and needs-based financial aid programs to provide incentives for students in targeted groups a, b and/or c above.

Tactic 2: Increase the number of entering students with admission averages of 90% or higher by enhancing the competitiveness of our entrance scholarship program in support of Goal 1 b.

That proposal was adopted and, commencing with the incoming class of 2020, applicants with an entering average of 90% or higher were offered scholarships with higher values. In addition, new scholarships have been created to increase the participation of under-represented groups of students in the Faculty of Engineering and advance our diversity goals.

The impact of the following enhanced scholarship values and new scholarships for students in engineering and computer science will be included in the 2020/21 Student Financial Aid report.

Bursary program

UVic’s bursary program helps remove financial barriers and supports the retention and success of a diverse student population. As one of the major funding tools in the university's financial assistance strategy, bursaries reduce the gap between total financial need and available resources when primary resources are insufficient. Students are required to demonstrate financial need in order to qualify for bursaries.

Students who have applied and qualify for government student assistance, and whose financial need exceeds the maximum government aid available, are eligible to apply for bursary funding. While the majority of bursary funds require applicants to be in receipt of government student assistance, there are need-based awards that do not. For example, bursaries for international students, students with lived experience in care, and students in the LE,NONET program do not require recipients to be receiving government student assistance.

Students submit bursary applications that are assessed to determine eligibility. Basic educational expenses recognized by the provincial student assistance authority are included in the assessment of financial need. These costs include tuition and mandatory fees, books and supplies, accommodation, food, transportation, personal expenses and childcare costs, if applicable. The costs not covered by other sources, or unmet need, are calculated by deducting student, parental or spousal contributions and government aid from the allowable costs detailed above. Bursaries are made available to cover a percentage of the applicant’s unmet need.

Students who do not qualify for government student assistance due to extenuating circumstances or who experience an unforeseen financial crisis are also eligible to apply for bursary funding. These students meet with a Financial Aid Officer to discuss their financial situation, and bursary funding may be approved on a discretionary basis. Using the principles adopted with the allocation of international bursaries, SAFA will continue to work with students to explore all options available, including bursaries, to assist with financial need.

In 2019/20:

- 2,219 undergraduate students received bursaries and awards valued at $5.2 million.
- 201 graduate students received bursaries and awards valued at $638K.
• Included in the totals above, 201 undergraduate and graduate international students received bursaries valued at $359K.

Bursaries are awarded throughout the academic year. See Appendix A and Appendix B for a breakdown of bursaries and awards allocated to undergraduate and graduate students, respectively.

The allocation formula used to distribute bursary funding ensures a greater level of support for students with the most significant financial barriers. The pool of applicants with the highest financial need is primarily composed of students with dependents. For 2019/20, the bursary program was able to meet 99% of the total assessed need of undergraduate and graduate recipients compared to a range of 70% to 100% in 2018/19.

The following table provides the total value of bursaries awarded to domestic and international undergraduate and graduate students from 2013/14 to 2019/20:

Work study program
The work study program creates valuable experiential learning opportunities for students to engage in research and other activities as part of their program. The program, which runs during the Winter Session only, provides work experience for currently registered undergraduate and graduate students (both domestic and international) who require financial assistance.

Students are not required to be in receipt of government student assistance to participate in the work study program but must demonstrate financial need according to a standardized needs assessment.

In 2019/20:
• The program had a budget of $695,000 plus an additional one-time budget of $200K to support an increase in the participation of international students.
• The hourly rate of pay was a minimum of $14.50 per hour (up from $13.50 in 2018/19).
• 1,196 students were eligible to participate in the program.
• 522 students (428 domestic and 94 international) were hired into 403 positions.
• Participants earned $906,128 for an average of $1,736 per student.
Funding for Indigenous students
UVic is committed to increasing the recruitment, retention and success of Indigenous students across all faculties.

Funding for students with lived experience in care
In 2014/15, UVic created the University of Victoria Youth in Care Award. Originally the award covered up to eight terms of funding or completion of a first degree, whichever came first, of actual tuition costs excluding mandatory fees. Entering, in-course, and transfer students who met the eligibility criteria and who were registered in their first undergraduate degree were eligible to apply.

In 2017/18, the terms of reference for the award were amended to complement the new BC Provincial Tuition Waiver Program announced by the BC Ministry of Advanced Education, Skills and Training in September of that year. The UVic award now covers the actual tuition costs and mandatory fees for all terms of study required for completion of a first undergraduate degree for students previously in care in BC for at least one year but who do not meet the Provincial Tuition Waiver age or number of years in care criterion. In addition, donor-provided funds, including those from the Sisters of St. Ann, provide support to assist with book costs and living expenses.

Additional information about support for former youth in care in BC:

- UVic’s Youth in Care Award has no age limit and the minimum amount of time in care to qualify for the award is 12 months. Time in care must have been in the province of BC.
- The BC Provincial Tuition Waiver Program is available to students 19-26 years of age and who have been in care in BC for a minimum of 24 months.
- In 2019/20, 46 students received the UVic award (compared to 45 recipients in 2018/19), totaling $163,039. Of these students, 30 also qualified for the BC waiver.
Government student assistance
In 2019/20, 5,339 undergraduate and graduate students at UVic received $55.6 million in funding through all Canadian federal and provincial/territorial student assistance programs. More than $10.5 million of that total was awarded as non-repayable grant funding. Federal grant programs continue to play a significant role in meeting the financial needs of students.

In addition to Canadian government student assistance, 79 students received Direct Loans from the US Department of Education totalling almost $875K USD.

Economic changes have an impact on participation in post-secondary studies, applications for government assistance, and the demand on the UVic bursary program. Trends in government student assistance and the impact on demand for UVic programs will continue to be reviewed. We will, where possible and as they align with our enrolment goals, adjust our financial aid programs to meet the needs of students.

Plan for further action
The SEM Plan includes initiatives designed to ensure that UVic is well positioned to meet our provincially funded enrolment targets as well as our internal objectives regarding academic quality and entering averages, and our commitment to supporting student success. The university has made significant short-term investments in student financial aid over the last six years, and future budget priorities will continue to reflect our ongoing goal of enhancing quality at the undergraduate level and increasing support for under-represented groups of students.
