3. BUSINESS ARISING FROM THE MINUTES

a. Update on Notice of Petition: Proposed changes to Section 36.00 in the Senate Rules and Procedures

Ada Saab, Associate University Secretary, reported that the motion circulated by email on March 14, 2025, on the terms of reference, composition and membership for the ad hoc committee on the examination of the proposed change to section 36.00 of the Senate Rules and Procedures regarding secret ballots had passed. She reported that the committee had met twice and anticipated a response to be brought to Senate for its May meeting.

4. REMARKS FROM THE CHAIR

a. President's Report

K. Hall spoke to Senate members on the recently released external report into the death of Sidney McIntyre-Starko. He remarked on Ms. McIntyre-Starko's passing and it's a profound impact on the UVic community and beyond. K. Hall noted that it was UVic's responsibility to ensure that her death leads to lasting, and systemic change and that it was vital that the university pauses to take the time to reflect and take the steps necessary to improve safety for our community.

K. Hall thanked Ms. McIntyre-Starko's family for speaking out and sparking a broader conversation across post-secondary institutions and the province about the toxic-drug-overdose crisis. He commented that their courage and perseverance through unimaginable grief has helped make university campuses safer.

K. Hall spoke about the report completed by Bob Rich, an accomplished lawyer and highly decorated former Abbotsford Police Chief, which examined what was in place before January 2024, the events surrounding Ms. McIntyre-Starko's death, and how the university responded. K. Hall said Mr. Rich report outlined 18 recommendations, all of which the university was committed to implementing, noting the university's first focus would be on the student facing recommendations in advance of September 2025.

K. Hall advised that the released of the report was in advance of the coroner's inquest later in April to show full transparency and accountability. He said this transparency was crucial in ensuring that we learn from this tragedy, make necessary changes, and rebuild trust within our community and with our students. K. Hall said the intention of the Rich report was not to find blame and knows that UVic staff and faculty come to work every day to support our students. He said UVic students, and the staff and faculty who work with them, are facing increasingly complex challenges, and the university strives to meet each new challenge with empathy, care and flexibility.

K. Hall reported that over the last year the university has done a significant amount of work, including implementing the provincial guidelines and making progress on the 10 commitments made earlier this year, however, there was more work to be done. He, along with the executive leadership team, would be responsible for overseeing the implementation of the recommendations alongside the Overdose Response and Prevention Committee led by Dr. Jennifer White, Associate Dean, Faculty of Graduate Studies. K. Hall said that Mr. Rich's recommendations, advice from UVic researchers with specialized expertise in overdose prevention and harm reduction, the results from the Students' Assembly on Reducing Harms from Toxic Drugs, and the upcoming Coroner's Inquest, would all inform UVic's first comprehensive institutional Overdose Prevention Plan.

In response to a question from a member of Senate on timelines, K. Hall advised that the university would be reviewing the last three recommendations over the course of the next several weeks. He said that the results of the provincial coroner's inquest was expected at the end of May/beginning of June and anticipated a roadmap for implementation early July.

d. Senate Committee on Learning and Teaching

i. Annual Report on Course Delivery Modes (2024/25)

Li-Shih Huang, Chair of the Senate Committee on Learning and Teaching, introduced the annual report.

A member of Senate asked if future reports could include a count of sections of those registered in the various course modalities versus those students who are enrolled. Elizabeth Adjin-Tettey, Associate Vice-President Academic Programs, responded that this would be done in future reports and provided members of Senate with the numbers for 2024. In response to a question on analysis of differences in the performances of students, E. Adjin-Tettey advised Senate that while the reporting doesn't drill into those details, it has not been shown that there are any differences.

7. PROPOSALS AND REPORTS FROM FACULTIES

There was none.

8. PROPOSALS AND REPORTS FROM THE VICE-PRESIDENT ACADEMIC AND PROVOST

a. Office of the Vice-President Academic and Provost Update

Elizabeth Croft, Vice-President Academic and Provost, thanked Senate for the opportunity to share a Provost's Report.

E. Croft reported that earlier in the week, the Board of Governors approved UVic's enrolment recommendations for the coming year, noting that the university was on track to meet these targets through a good pool of both domestic and international applicants. She thanked and acknowledged all the work by the Division of Student Affairs and the Faculties to turn admits into registrants, noting that enrolment was the biggest contributor to the university's operating budget, and being able to meet targets meant the balancing of the university's budget.

E. Croft informed Senate that after many years of dedicated service to co-op and career services, Andrea Giles, Executive Director of Co-operative Education Program and Career Services, intends to retire from the university. E. Croft noted that during Ms. Giles' time as Executive Director these past 7 years, the division has celebrated numerous milestones, including the 100,000th work-term placement, and has received several external awards for innovative programming and initiatives. E. Croft stated that E. Adjin-Tettey was leading the search for Ms. Giles' replacement.

^{*} Administered by the University of Victoria Foundation

E. Croft noted last week's annual Vikes Celebration of Champions recognized teams and athletes for various awards. She said that among the highlights, the women's field hockey team won their sixth consecutive U SPORTS championship, and the women's rowing and men's basketball teams also brought home national titles. E. Croft also remarked that the university had four student athletes with perfect GPAs this year.

E. Croft thanked everyone who supported UVic's Moving Trans History Forward conference last week.

Finally, E. Croft reported that David Leitch, Department of Chemistry, received one of eight Dorothy Killam Fellowships this year, for his research on sustainable platinum group metal catalysts.

As Ms. Giles was in the gallery, K. Hall thanked her for her years of service. Members of Senate congratulated Ms. Giles.

A member of Senate requested an update on the new budget model as there were concerns within faculties of programs being closed. E. Croft explained that the university was on track for a balanced budget and that the model being proposed would see opportunities across faculties for increased enrolments. Tony Eder, Associate Vice-President Academic Resource Planning, noted there were no major updates related to the budget model since Senate's previous meeting, and that work continued regarding the new budget model. He reminded Senators there would be opportunities for engagement before implementation.

A Senator asked when instructors would receive communication on supports for accommodations for course delivery in the Fall 2025/Spring 2026. E. Croft noted accommodation supports will not be removed, and said the Deans are working through the issues within their faculties. E. Adjin-Tettey advised the Senator that more information would be coming.

b. Update on Transnational Education Initiatives

Elango Elangovan, Associate Vice-President Global Engagement, provided members of Senate with an overview of the transnational education (TNE) framework and its purpose, noting that specific proposals would come to Senate for approval.

A Senator asked several questions, such as the expected number of proposals coming forward, the relationship between TNE and the new budget model, and when the values of UVic conflict with the receiving institution. E. Elangovan reported on the different units, such as the Faculty of Engineering, the Peter B. Gustavson School of Business, the School of Nursing, and the Department of Health Information Science who plan to submit proposals. E. Croft advised the Senator that the questions regarding the budget were not yet known as the proposals have yet to be submitted but noted that TNE was not intended to be cost recovery. E. Adjin-Tettey spoke on the values of UVic and while the intent of the partnerships was to fill a gap in educational opportunities, the UVic experience would be replicated as close as possible to the host institution, however, there was also a need to be respectful of the laws and regulations of each host institution.

A member of Senate asked which other institutions who have been part of TNE are part of the top 200 worldwide. K. Hall and E. Elangovan cited several institutions involved in TNE who were among the top 200 ranked universities. In response to a question of any institutions expressing interest in partnering, E. Elangovan noted both that Singapore and Thailand had expressed interest.

A Senator commented on the institutional capacity to effectively communicate and oversee TNE. In response, E. Elangovan outlined the role of global engagement in four stages: academic development with faculty members, the governance approval process, contract negotiations, and implementation. E. Adjin-Tettey noted that the business model would include the need to maintain the university's academic standards. In response to a question on the time it takes to implement TNE, K. Hall reported that the process was usually completed within a year. A further question was asked regarding who would be responsible for the running of these programs and how any extra resources would be provided. E. Adjin-Tettey advised Senators that the day-to-day running of the program would be the responsibility of the host institution.

9. OTHER BUSINESS

There was none.

There being no other business the meeting was adjourned at 4:24 p.m.
